What is this handbook?

A practical, step-by-step guide for international students at Leibniz University Hannover (LUH): from applying while still at home, to arriving in Hannover, studying, working and staying after graduation. Each topic has its own page, and every page answers the same questions: What do I need to do? Where do I start? Which documents do I need and what does it cost? Which office is responsible? Where can I find official, up-to-date information?

Most pages apply to every international student. Where rules differ by nationality or status, you'll see the 🌍 symbol — and Section 8 collects everything that depends on where you come from.

Where do I start?

- 🌍 Not sure which rules apply to you? → 58. Which rules apply to you? (by nationality)
- Haven't applied yet? → 1. Applying, uni-assist and recognition
- Admitted and still at home? → 2. Before you arrive
- Just arrived? → 54. Checklist from application to graduation

- Quick question? → 56. FAQ
- What's due this month? → 65. Annual student calendar
- Signed something you regret, or need free legal help? → 67. Consumer rights and free legal help

- Finishing your studies? → 46. After graduation, 47. Leaving Germany
- In an emergency? → 37. Emergency numbers (ambulance 112, police 110)

How every page is structured

2. Who needs this? All students, international students, or a specific group (🌍).
3. Steps: in order, in plain language.
4. Documents and costs: separating required from possible items.
5. Responsible office: official name, address and contact.
6. Sources and official links: a table of every source on the page with its access date and check result.
7. Student experiences: kept separate from official information; not legal advice.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 1 — Arriving in Hannover & First Steps · Key: ☐ = do this · ℹ️ = note · ⚠️ = needs confirmation · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

This page gives a practical order for the tasks of your first two weeks. The details of each task are on its own page; this page only tells you when and in which order to do them.

2. Who needs this?

- New arrivals who will live in Hannover and have not yet done any of the administrative tasks.
- Students who started this semester and may have missed one of the steps.

🌍 Which tasks apply to you depends on your nationality: EU/EEA and Swiss citizens, for example, do not need a visa or a study residence permit. → Section 8 — Information by nationality

3. Steps

Phase A — before you arrive

- ☐ Complete your pre-departure documents: national visa (type D) if you need one, blocked account and travel insurance. → 2. Before you arrive
- ☐ Arrange where you will sleep in the first week (hall, temporary room or shared flat). → 4. Finding accommodation
- ☐ Carry the originals of your main documents: passport, visa, admission letter and translated certificates. → 12. Admission and enrolment

- ☐ Buy a SIM card so the bank, insurer and offices can reach you. → 8. SIM card and internet
- ☐ Keep your rental contract and deposit receipt and take photos of them. → 4. Finding accommodation

Phase C — days 3 to 10 (offices and bank)

- ☐ Register your address (Anmeldung) at the Bürgeramt. The deadline is at most two weeks after you move in, and you need the landlord's confirmation (Wohnungsgeberbestätigung). → 5. Registering your address
- ☐ Open a bank account. The registration certificate is usually needed. → 6. Opening a bank account
- ☐ Choose and register your health insurance. Do this as soon as possible after enrolling. → 7. Health insurance
- ☐ Prepare your residence permit application (if you need one). When you have the registration certificate and the account, submit it without delay. → 10. Residence permit

Phase D — days 10 to 14 (university and semester matters)

- ☐ Complete final enrolment (Immatrikulation) and pay the semester fee. → 12. Admission and enrolment, 13. Semester fee and student card
- ☐ Follow up your Tax ID (Steuer-ID). The letter usually arrives a few weeks later. → 9. Tax ID and official letters
- ☐ Keep your official mail in one folder: photograph every letter from an office or the university and store the photos together.

- Rental contract and landlord's confirmation.
- Registration certificate (after it is issued).
- Admission letter and enrolment certificate.
- Health insurance certificate.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 1 — Arriving in Hannover & First Steps · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

The first step is getting admitted. This page explains how to apply to Leibniz University Hannover (LUH), when the deadlines are, what uni-assist and the VPD are, and how foreign school and university certificates are assessed.

2. Who needs this?

- Bachelor's and Master's applicants who are still abroad or already in Germany.
- Graduates who need their foreign degree assessed for work or further study.
- 🌍 Rules differ for EU/EEA applicants, applicants with a German school-leaving certificate and applicants from APS countries (China, India, Vietnam) — see Section 8 — Information by nationality.

3. Steps

1. Find your programme and its requirements. Entry and language requirements are set in each programme's admission regulations, and only those regulations are binding (LUH – Language requirements). Programme search: LUH – Degree programmes.
2. Deadlines. Many Master's programmes have earlier deadlines for non-EU applicants: 15 April – 31 May for the winter semester and 15 October – 30 November of the previous year for the summer semester (not every programme starts in summer). German and EU applicants usually have until 15 July / 15 January. Some programmes are exceptions (LUH – Overview of application deadlines (PDF); LUH – Application & admission). ⚠️ Always check the current year's deadline for your own programme.
3. VPD from uni-assist. Non-EU applicants with foreign certificates usually need a preliminary review documentation (VPD) from uni-assist, which they must submit to the university themselves before the deadline (uni-assist – VPD; LUH – Language requirements).
4. VPD timing. A VPD usually takes 4–6 weeks after your documents and payment arrive; send everything at least 8 weeks before the deadline. A VPD is valid for one year from issue (uni-assist – FAQs). 🌍 uni-assist publishes country-specific document requirements: uni-assist – Country information.

5. Translations. Documents not in German or English need a certified translation into German or English, together with the original-language document (uni-assist – FAQs).
6. Language. Bachelor's applicants with foreign certificates need German at B1 to apply and C1 to enrol, unless the programme regulations say otherwise. English-taught Master's programmes set their own English requirements (LUH – Language requirements). → 35. Learning German
7. Does your school certificate give direct access? Check the free anabin database (school certificates and universities by country). If your certificate does not give direct university access, you may need the Feststellungsprüfung after a year at a preparatory college (Studienkolleg) — Lower Saxony's is in Hannover (anabin; Niedersächsisches Studienkolleg).
8. Assessment of a foreign university degree. Check anabin first; if your university or degree is not listed, the ZAB issues a "Statement of Comparability" (Zeugnisbewertung). This is a comparison, not a professional licence (Recognition in Germany – Assessment of higher education qualifications; ZAB – Fees).
9. After admission: visa, proof of finances and insurance → 2. Before you arrive; enrolment → 12. Admission and enrolment.

4. Documents and costs

Item	Required / possible	Notes	Source
VPD from uni-assist	Required (non-EU with foreign certificates)	Valid for one year	uni-assist
uni-assist fee	Required	Set by the universities; paid regardless of the outcome	uni-assist – Handling fees
Certified translations	Required (documents not in German or English)	—	uni-assist – FAQs
Language certificate	Required	Depends on programme	LUH
APS certificate	Required (school/university education in China, India or Vietnam)	Apply in your home country before applying	61. Visa-required countries & APS
ZAB Statement of Comparability	Possible	€208; usually about three months	ZAB – Fees

5. Responsible office

- Preliminary review: uni-assist e.V. — uni-assist.de
- Admission and advice: Leibniz University Hannover — Central Student Advisory Service → 21. ServiceCenter; International Office → 22. International Office
- Degree assessment: Zentralstelle für ausländisches Bildungswesen (ZAB) — zab.kmk.org

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 1 — Arriving in Hannover & First Steps · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

This page lists what must be done before you travel to Hannover: visa, proof of financial resources, insurance, accommodation and enrolment documents. Mistakes or delays at this stage are hard to fix later.

2. Who needs this?

- 🌍 What you need depends on your citizenship:

Your citizenship	Visa before travelling?	Where to read more
EU / EEA	No — ID card or passport is enough	59. EU, EEA and Swiss citizens
Switzerland	No visa; residence permit after arrival	59. EU, EEA and Swiss citizens
Australia, Canada, Israel, Japan, New Zealand, South Korea, United Kingdom, USA (and for study only: Andorra, Brazil, El Salvador, Honduras, Monaco, San Marino)	No — residence permit applied for in Germany within 90 days	60. Visa-free nationalities
All other countries	Yes — national visa (type D)	61. Visa-required countries & APS

- All students: accommodation, health insurance and enrolment documents.

3. Steps

1. Get a national visa (type D), not a Schengen visa (type C). Only a type D visa can be converted into a residence permit for stays over 90 days; ask for multiple entry (LUH – Entry and Residence). A tourist visa does not allow you to enrol and cannot be converted.

2. If you do not yet have an unconditional admission, or must first attend a language course or Studienkolleg, there is a visa for prospective students (residence for up to 9 months to find a study place) (LUH – Entry and Residence).
3. Find your German mission (embassy or consulate) and its rules. Waiting times for appointments vary from a few days to many months depending on the country, and many missions use an external service provider (e.g. VFS Global or TLScontact) or the online Consular Services Portal. Apply only to the mission responsible for your place of residence (Federal Foreign Office – German missions abroad; Federal Foreign Office – Visa Navigator; Consular Services Portal). 🌍 Book your appointment as soon as you have your admission letter — or earlier if your mission runs a waiting list.
4. Proof of financial resources. Most students use a blocked account (Sperrkonto); alternatives are a scholarship or a formal obligation letter (Verpflichtungserklärung) from someone living in Germany. Only an official confirmation showing the total amount and the monthly payout is accepted (Federal Foreign Office (German Embassy Managua) – Blocked account). For 2026 the German missions ask for €992 per month, i.e. €11,904 per year for regular study (German missions in Italy – Visa news). Applicants for the 9-month prospective-student residence may be asked for more (one mission lists €1,091/month) (German Embassy San José – Merkblatt Studium (PDF)). ⚠️ The amount is reviewed regularly — confirm it on your mission's website before transferring money.
5. Health insurance. Non-EU students need insurance for their whole stay (usually travel/incoming insurance for the first days). After enrolment, students can join statutory health insurance at the student rate (LUH – Entry and Residence). → 7. Health insurance
6. Accommodation: start searching as early as possible. → 4. Finding accommodation
7. Personal liability insurance (Haftpflichtversicherung) is strongly recommended (LUH – Entry and Residence).
8. Prepare your enrolment documents (originals, translations, admission letter). → 12. Admission and enrolment
9. Use the personal roadmap EasyStartLUH (LUH – Entry and Residence).
10. Bring with you: passport (valid well beyond your first year), originals and certified copies of your certificates, biometric photos, an international or translated driving licence if you plan to drive, prescriptions for regular medication (in English), and enough money (or a card that works abroad) for the first weeks — rent deposit and first rent are often due before your blocked account pays out. ℹ️ General advice; see 3. Arrival.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 1 — Arriving in Hannover & First Steps · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

How to get from the airport or station to your accommodation and the university, and which ticket to use in your first days.

2. Who needs this?

- All newcomers — especially those who arrive before the semester starts, i.e. before the semester ticket is valid.

3. Steps

1. From Hannover Airport (HAJ): the S5 suburban train runs every 30 minutes and takes about 17–20 minutes to Hannover Hauptbahnhof (central station); the station is below Terminal C (Hannover Airport – Transport & Directions).
2. Fare zone: the airport is in zone B of the GVH network (ÜSTRA – Tickets and subscriptions). ⚠️ Check the current single-ticket price on the ÜSTRA site or at the ticket machine; ÜSTRA service line +49 511 1668-0.
3. Arriving via Frankfurt, Hamburg, Berlin or another hub? Long-distance ICE/IC trains reach Hannover Hbf directly; book with Deutsche Bahn (Deutsche Bahn). ℹ️ Saver fares are cheaper when booked early.
4. The semester ticket (Deutschlandsemesterticket) becomes valid on the first day of the semester: 1 October (winter) or 1 April (summer) (AStA – Semester ticket). If you arrive earlier, buy a separate ticket. → 30. Public transport
5. University: the main building (Welfenschloss) is at Welfengarten 1, 30167 Hannover (LUH – ServiceCenter). Directions: LUH – How to get here. → 14. Campus and buildings
6. Find buildings with the Standortfinder (LUH – Study checklist).
7. No room yet? Studentenwerk lists temporary options such as Jugendherberge Hannover (youth hostel), Naturfreundehaus and Bed'nBudget (Studentenwerk – Housing search). → 4. Finding accommodation
8. First-week checklist: register your address, open a bank account, finish enrolment and health insurance. → 54. Checklist

9. Cash at the airport: if you arrive from a country outside the EU carrying €10,000 or more in cash (or equivalent), you must declare it in writing to customs. There is no upper limit, and the declaration is free (Zoll – Cash). ℹ️ Keep the customs receipt — banks usually ask where large cash deposits come from. → 6. Bank account

4. Documents and costs

1. Purpose

Finding a room in Hannover is hard, especially at the start of the semester. This page summarises official and common ways to find a room, typical costs and what to check in a rental contract.

2. Who needs this?

- All new students.
- Studentenwerk halls of residence are only for students enrolled at a Hannover university (LUH – Housing).

3. Steps

1. Studentenwerk halls: 20 halls, mostly furnished, often with fast and cheap internet; rent including utilities is usually €240–500 per month (LUH – Housing). Waiting lists are very long at the start of the semester — apply early (Studentenwerk – Housing search).
2. Private student residences: about €500–700 per month, e.g. Student One, THE FIZZ, i Live, Imvio and C5 (LUH – Housing).
3. Room in a shared flat (WG): common and a little more expensive than a hall; kitchen and bathroom are shared. Sources: Studentenwerk's online housing exchange and wg-gesucht.de (Studentenwerk; LUH).
4. Sublets (Zwischenmiete): furnished rooms for a limited time — a good option for the first weeks (LUH).
5. Notice boards (Schwarzes Brett) in the main building, canteens, libraries and institutes, and housing ads in Hannover newspapers on Wednesdays and Saturdays (LUH).
6. Outside Hannover: Studentenwerk suggests also searching in towns on S-Bahn lines within about 50 km, e.g. Nienburg, Hameln, Peine, Celle and Hildesheim — the semester ticket covers the trains (Studentenwerk).
7. The International Office accommodation service is only for exchange students, doctoral candidates and researchers, and is not guaranteed (LUH).
8. Before signing, make sure the landlord will give you a landlord's confirmation (Wohnungsgeberbestätigung); without it you cannot register your address (LUH). → 5. Registering your address

9. Deposit (Kaution): at most three months' rent excluding utilities; tenants may pay it in three monthly instalments, the first at the start of the tenancy (§ 551 BGB).
10. Discrimination: refusing a tenant because of ethnic origin is unlawful under the General Equal Treatment Act. If it happens to you, the Federal Anti-Discrimination Agency offers free advice (Federal Anti-Discrimination Agency – Housing).
11. Tenant advice: AStA offers free legal advice for students; tenants' associations (Mieterverein) offer advice for members (AStA Hannover). → 24. AStA
12. Ads that say "no Anmeldung possible": the most common housing problem students report. By law the landlord or main tenant must confirm your move-in within two weeks (§ 19 BMG), and you must register within two weeks (§ 17 BMG); breaking either rule is an administrative offence with a fine of up to €1,000 (§ 54 BMG). Without registration you get no Meldebescheinigung, and the bank account, residence permit and tax ID are all delayed. → 5. Registering your address
13. Never buy an "address for registration": offering or selling an address to someone who does not actually live there is prohibited and can be fined up to €50,000 (§ 19 (6) BMG; § 54 BMG).
14. Practical strategy: accept a room without Anmeldung only for the first few weeks and keep looking for one with registration at the same time.
15. Renting from a tenant (Untermiete): a tenant may only sublet a room or flat to you with the landlord's permission (§ 540 BGB). Ask to see that permission and whether you can register. → 67. Consumer rights and free legal help

> Rental scams: never send money before you have seen the room and signed a proper contract. If someone asks for a deposit or first rent before a viewing, or the landlord is "abroad" and only reachable remotely, it is very likely a scam. If you have already paid, report it to the police immediately and ask your bank to stop the transfer (Police information sheet via KIT (PDF, German)).

- Studentenwerk waiting lists (2024–2026): students reported waiting from several months to a year. What helped most: besides applying in the portal, e-mail the caretaker or manager of each hall separately and explain your situation; ask the Welcome Centre for its list of private residences; and spend the first weeks in a sublet (Zwischenmiete). Signing a hall contract usually required the enrolment certificate or proof of the semester-fee payment.
- Rooms fill up before each semester (March and September); most sublet offers were 1–6 months in halls near the main building.
- First nights: students without a room booked a hostel or used Studentenwerk's temporary options for the first nights. → 3. Arriving in Hannover
- €100 "reservation fee" without a contract: a common scam pattern — don't pay before you have a written contract and have seen the room.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 1 — Arriving in Hannover & First Steps · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

Everyone who moves into a flat or room in Germany must officially register their address (Anmeldung). Without the registration certificate (Meldebescheinigung) the next steps — bank account, tax ID, library card and residence permit — are not possible (Studentenwerk Hannover – First steps; LUH – Study checklist).

2. Who needs this?

- All students living in the city or region of Hannover — regardless of nationality, including EU citizens.
- You must register again every time you move (Studentenwerk Hannover).

3. Steps

1. Deadline: within two weeks of moving in (hannover.gov.de – Registering a flat).
2. Get the landlord's confirmation (Wohnungsgeberbestätigung) from your landlord or main tenant, printed and signed. A rental contract is not accepted instead (hannover.gov.de). Official city form: PDF.
3. Book an appointment. All citizens' offices (Bürgerämter) in the city of Hannover work by appointment only, and city residents may go to any of them (hannover.de – Bürgeramt Aegi). Booking: termin.hannover.gov.de/buergeramt. ℹ️ New slots are often released early in the morning; check daily.
4. University group appointment: each semester the International Office arranges a group appointment for new international students at Bürgeramt Aegidientorplatz; a request does not guarantee a place (LUH – Appointment request Bürgeramt). ℹ️ For winter 2026/27 the request deadline was 1 October and the group appointment 13 October 2026; check the same page for the next semester.
5. Online registration has been possible since 2025, but currently not for holders of an electronic residence permit (eAT) (hannover.gov.de – Electronic registration). 🌍 It needs an ID card or eAT with online function — most first-time arrivals from outside the EU therefore register in person.
6. If you live in the Hannover region outside the city (e.g. Garbsen), go to that town's Bürgeramt or Einwohnermeldeamt (LUH; Studentenwerk).

7. Religion on the form is optional, but depending on what you declare, church tax (Kirchensteuer) may later be deducted from your salary (LUH – Entry and Residence).
8. Name spelling: make sure your name is written exactly as in your passport — this avoids problems later with the bank, tax office and residence permit. ℹ️ General advice.
9. Keep the certificate; you need it for the bank and the TIB library card (LUH – Study checklist). → 6. Bank account
10. Your landlord has a duty too: the landlord (Wohnungsgeber) must confirm your move-in in writing or electronically within two weeks (§ 19 BMG). Not issuing the confirmation, or not registering on time, is an offence with a fine of up to €1,000 (§ 54 BMG). → 4. Finding accommodation

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 1 — Arriving in Hannover & First Steps · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

Regular payments in Germany — semester fee, rent, phone bills — are usually made by bank transfer or direct debit, so a German current account (Girokonto) is almost essential (Studentenwerk Hannover – First steps). The monthly payout from a blocked account is also paid into this account.

2. Who needs this?

- All students, especially non-EU students with a blocked account.
- 🌍 EU students can legally use an account from any SEPA country (IBAN discrimination is not allowed), but a German account is often still more practical (European Commission – Your Europe: Bank accounts).

3. Steps

1. Register your address first — the registration certificate is needed to open an account (Studentenwerk). → 5. Registering your address
2. According to the university, some banks also ask for your tax ID (Steuer-ID) (LUH – Entry and Residence). ℹ️ Each bank's list of documents differs; ask before you go.
3. Right to a basic account: everyone legally resident in the EU — including people without a fixed address, asylum seekers and people with a tolerated stay — has the right to a basic payment account (Basiskonto) (Payment Accounts Act § 31 ZKG; BaFin). The bank must offer you the contract within ten business days of receiving your complete application. Apply in writing and keep a receipt; if a bank refuses you, ask for the refusal in writing and contact BaFin. ℹ️ Students often found that one branch refused while another branch or bank accepted them.
4. Many banks and Sparkassen offer free accounts for students. If the account is free only for students, show an enrolment certificate — and a new one every semester (Studentenwerk).
5. Online banks can be opened by video identification and often work in English. ℹ️ Check that your passport/nationality is accepted for video-ident and that the bank issues a German IBAN (DE...).

6. A debit card (Girocard, also called EC card) is useful — some shops and canteens accept only Girocard or cash (Studentenwerk).
7. Pay the semester fee from a German account; international transfers cost fees and are slow (Studentenwerk). → 13. Semester fee and LeibnizCard
8. 🌍 Sanctioned countries: some banks run extra checks for nationals or residents of countries under EU sanctions. → 62. Sanctions and payment restrictions
9. Blocked account for extending your residence permit: use the amount and form that the Ausländerbehörde's own checklist asks for, not what others tell you. → 10. Residence permit
10. Cash: if you bring €10,000 or more in cash from outside the EU, declare it to customs and keep the receipt; banks usually ask where large cash deposits come from (Zoll – Cash). → 3. Arriving in Hannover

- Branches differ a lot: some opened an account the same day; others asked for the enrolment certificate or Steuer-ID, or sent the documents to head office for review. Several students who were refused opened an account at another branch or bank. ℹ️ This handbook does not recommend any bank.
- Fees: monthly account fees and card fees at the same bank were reported differently depending on age and account type — ask for the price list (Preis- und Leistungsverzeichnis) before signing.
- Moving to another city: Sparkassen are local; students usually opened a new account in the new city and closed the old one.
- Online banking from abroad: some German banking apps did not work from certain countries without a VPN; test access before travelling home.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 1 — Arriving in Hannover & First Steps · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

You cannot enrol at the university without health insurance, and proof of insurance is also needed for the residence permit (Studentenwerk Hannover – First steps).

2. Who needs this?

- All students.
- 🌍 EU/EEA and Swiss students with statutory insurance at home can use the European Health Insurance Card (EHIC); the German insurer then confirms the exemption to the university. For longer stays German insurance can still be useful (LUH – Entry and Residence).
- 🌍 Countries with a social security agreement: students insured at home in some non-EU countries (e.g. Türkiye, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Montenegro, North Macedonia, Serbia, Tunisia) may be able to use their home insurance with a certificate from their insurer. Check with the German statutory insurer before you arrive (DVKA – Social security agreements). ⚠️ Coverage depends on the specific agreement.
- 🌍 All other non-EU students need insurance for their whole stay; enrolled full-time students can join statutory insurance at the student rate (LUH – Entry and Residence).
- The student rate in statutory insurance is generally available until the end of the semester in which you turn 30 (gesetzlichekrankenkassen.de — unofficial source).

3. Steps

1. Choose a statutory health insurer (gesetzliche Krankenkasse). Studentenwerk names these insurers with offices in Hannover: AOK, BARMER, DAK, KKH and TK (Studentenwerk). All statutory insurers cover essentially the same benefits by law; they differ mainly in the additional contribution and service (e.g. English-language support).
2. Ask the insurer to send the electronic insurance notification (M10) directly to the university (Studentenwerk; LUH – Enrolment).
3. Private insurance or exemption: if you choose private insurance, you must apply to a statutory insurer for exemption within three months of enrolment, and the exemption is irrevocable for your whole studies (§ 8 SGB V). The private policy must meet the requirements of § 11 (1)–(3) SGB V for the residence permit (LUH – Entry and Residence).
4. Enrolled students are automatically covered by statutory accident insurance for university activities (LUH – Entry and Residence).
5. After joining, always carry your insurance card and show it at the doctor and pharmacy. → 33. Doctors and pharmacies
6. Turning 30: compulsory student insurance runs at most until your 30th birthday; it continues longer only if the type of studies or family or personal reasons justify it (§ 5 (1) no. 9 SGB V). Ask your insurer a few months before your 30th birthday what your options are afterwards and what they cost — students ask this question again and again.
7. Read cheap private policies carefully: before signing, check the limit for dental treatment, the deductible (your own share) and cover for non-urgent treatment. → 33. Doctors and pharmacies

4. Documents and costs

- Cheap private insurance: students who arrived with low-cost private insurance reported that dental costs were refunded only up to a small yearly limit and that specialist visits without a referral were sometimes not covered. You pay the bills yourself and send them in for reimbursement.
- Supplementary dental insurance only covers problems that start after the policy begins — take it out before your first dental check-up. Implants and bridges are usually not covered by statutory insurance.
- Sick days at work: your employer pays your wages for sick days (with a doctor's certificate), not your health insurer — whether statutory or private. → 33

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 1 — Arriving in Hannover & First Steps · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

A German phone number and internet are needed in the first days for appointments, the bank, university e-mail and contacting your landlord. This page covers SIM cards and internet for the first days; long-term contracts are in 32. Internet, mobile and service contracts.

2. Who needs this?

- All newcomers.
- 🌍 EU/EEA SIM cards work in Germany without roaming charges under "roam like at home" — but only for periodic travel; operators may charge extra if you live in Germany permanently (Your Europe – Roaming).

3. Steps

1. Prepaid SIM cards are sold in shops and online; your identity must be verified before activation (§ 172 TKG).
2. ID check is mandatory: the operator must verify your name, address and date of birth with an ID document before activation. Allowed methods (in person, PostIdent or video identification) are set by the Bundesnetzagentur (Bundesnetzagentur – ID procedures for prepaid). ℹ️ Some video-ident systems do not accept every passport; in-shop activation is the fallback.
3. University internet: connect to LUH-WLAN (or eduroam, which also works at universities worldwide) with your LUH-ID; it is available in almost all buildings and on campus (LUH – Study checklist). → 17. Online systems
4. Many Studentenwerk halls have fast and cheap internet (LUH – Housing).
5. Some mobile providers offer student discounts on presentation of an enrolment certificate (LUH – Study checklist).
6. Free Wi-Fi in town: many trains, stations and cafés offer Wi-Fi. ℹ️ Use a VPN or avoid banking on open networks.

4. Documents and costs

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 1 — Arriving in Hannover & First Steps · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

After registering your address, two important letters usually arrive: your tax identification number (Steuerliche Identifikationsnummer, Steuer-ID), needed for any job, and a letter about the broadcasting fee (Rundfunkbeitrag). This page explains what to do with each.

2. Who needs this?

- Steuer-ID: everyone registering an address in Germany for the first time — especially anyone with a student job. Nationality does not matter.
- Rundfunkbeitrag: paid once per dwelling (Wohnung), not per person.

3. Steps

Tax ID (Steuer-ID)

1. After your first registration, the registration office passes your data to the Federal Central Tax Office (BZSt), which sends your number automatically by post to your registered address — you do not need to apply (BZSt – Tax identification number).
2. According to the university, the letter arrives in about two to three weeks (LUH – Entry and Residence). ℹ️ Put your full name on your letterbox so the post can be delivered.
3. If it has not arrived three months after registration, send a copy of your ID and your registration certificate to the BZSt (BZSt – FAQ). The number is only sent by post to the registered address.
4. Keep the letter; employers and sometimes banks ask for it (LUH – Entry and Residence). → 40. Student jobs

Broadcasting fee (Rundfunkbeitrag)

1. The fee is €18.36 per month per dwelling, not per person (Rundfunkbeitrag – Students).
2. Shared flat (WG): only one adult resident must register and pay; residents decide among themselves who (Rundfunkbeitrag – Students). Others register as "already covered" with the payer's contribution number.

3. Halls of residence: a room entered from a common corridor counts as its own dwelling and pays separately — even with a shared bathroom or kitchen (Rundfunkbeitrag – Students).
4. Exemption: BAföG recipients not living with their parents can apply for exemption (betanet — unofficial source). 🌍 BAföG usually does not cover international students, with exceptions (e.g. EU citizens with long residence, refugees) (LUH – Study checklist). → 43. Scholarships and funding
5. English information: Rundfunkbeitrag – Students and apprentices.
6. Do not ignore it: unpaid fees are collected with reminders and can end in enforcement. Register (or deregister when you leave) online. ℹ️

4. Documents and costs

Item	Required / possible	Notes	Source
Steuer-ID	—	Free; sent automatically after registration	BZSt
Rundfunkbeitrag	Required (per dwelling)	€18.36 per month	Rundfunkbeitrag

This page is general information, not legal advice. Residence rules change; always check with the foreigners' authority (Ausländerbehörde) before acting.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 1 — Arriving in Hannover & First Steps · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

An entry visa is limited in time. To stay for your studies you need a residence permit for study purposes (§ 16b AufenthG), issued as an electronic residence permit card (eAT) (Studentenwerk Hannover – First steps).

2. Who needs this?

- 🌍 Non-EU students staying longer than 90 days — both those who entered with a visa and those from visa-free countries (Australia, Canada, Israel, Japan, New Zealand, South Korea, UK, USA and others) (LUH – Entry and Residence; § 41 AufenthV). → 60. Visa-free nationalities
- 🌍 EU/EEA citizens do not need one. Swiss citizens must apply for a (free-movement) residence permit for stays over 90 days (LUH – Entry and Residence). → 59. EU, EEA and Swiss citizens
- 🌍 Students with a study permit from another EU country may be able to study in Germany for up to 360 days under the EU mobility scheme without a German permit (LUH – Entry and Residence).
- 🌍 Refugees and people with temporary protection (e.g. from Ukraine) keep their existing status → 63. Refugees and people with protection status.

3. Steps

1. When to apply: within your first 90 days or before your visa expires, whichever is earlier. Apply early; delays are likely (LUH – Entry and Residence).
2. Which office? Residents of the city of Hannover go to the city's Ausländerbehörde (Landeshauptstadt Hannover); residents of the Hannover region (e.g. Garbsen) go to the Ausländerbehörde der Region Hannover (LUH; Studentenwerk).

3. Online application (city of Hannover): most applications are submitted through the city's online portal; no visit is needed at this stage (hannover.de – Service for skilled workers, students and self-employed). Portal: Issue or extension of a residence permit.
    - Finding the form: in the portal enter your postcode, then choose "Aufenthaltserlaubnis für Studium, Ausbildung oder Schulbesuch" and "Aufenthaltserlaubnis zum Zwecke des Studiums oder für studienvorbereitende Maßnahmen". Choose "Ersterteilung" for your first permit and "Verlängerung" for an extension; for an extension also enter your Aktenzeichen (file number from your last letter) and upload the documents (City of Hannover – Residence permit for study, online application).
    - No online access? According to the office's checklist you can send the documents by e-mail to abh-fus@hannover-stadt.de (subject: "Antrag für Aufenthaltserlaubnis") or by post (checklist "Studium / Studienvorbereitung", City of Hannover, 2025 — PDF).
    - Language: documents and information must in principle be provided in German (City of Hannover).
    - Processing time: up to 3 months once all documents have arrived (City of Hannover). The office recommends applying at least 3 months before your visa or permit expires (Willkommensservice presentation for students, 2025 — PDF).
    - Length of the permit: usually issued and extended for two years, at least one year; shorter only if your programme is shorter (§ 16b AufenthG).
    - Your duty to cooperate: you must provide the required documents without delay (§ 82 AufenthG); false or incomplete information can lead to revocation, a fine or expulsion (City of Hannover).
4. The office reviews the application and, if approved, contacts you for an appointment to give fingerprints and later collect the card; this step is in person (hannover.de).
5. If processing takes long: if you apply for issue or extension before your current permit or visa expires, your stay remains lawful until the decision and you receive a fictional certificate (Fiktionsbescheinigung) (§ 81 AufenthG). This does not apply to Schengen visas. ℹ️ Keep proof that you applied (confirmation e-mail or PDF).
6. Extension from the 4th semester on: current transcripts from the examinations office and a statement from your faculty about your study progress are required (Studentenwerk).
7. Travel: with a valid eAT you can travel in the Schengen area for up to 90 days in any 180. → 39. Travelling in Europe
8. Working on a student residence permit is limited. → 40. Student jobs
9. After graduation you can get a residence permit to look for work for up to 18 months. → 46. After graduation
10. Free advice: the university holds information events on immigration law for students (LUH – Events); the Refugee Law Clinic Hannover also advises migrants (hannover.de – Refugee Law Clinic at the Faculty of Law (2020 report)).

- Online extension (2025–2026): the International Office prepared a step-by-step guide with screenshots for online extensions under §16b and §18b. Common mistakes: forgetting the Aktenzeichen, and not uploading the transcript (Leistungsnachweis) from the 4th semester on.
- Online information session: each semester, during orientation week, the Ausländerbehörde holds an information session for new international students (e.g. 26.03.2025). Attending answers many questions.

- Slow replies to e-mails and online applications — from a few days to several months. When their permit was about to expire, many students went in person, early in the morning, during opening hours and received a temporary certificate or Fiktionsbescheinigung the same day.
- Fiktionsbescheinigung for urgent travel: bring proof of the reason (e.g. ticket or employer's letter). Some reported that the Fiktion invoice already included an advance on the card fee.
- Photos: in 2025 and 2026 the invitation letter said to take the biometric photo in the building before the appointment, or to bring a digital photo from an approved photographer.
- Collecting the card: the new card was usually handed over in person and the old one taken back. If you hear nothing by the announced date, follow up in person.
- Financial proof: whether an employment contract was accepted instead of a blocked account — especially for a first application — varied from case to case. Rely only on the official checklist.
- Passport validity: if your passport expires before the end of the permit you are applying for, renew it first.

This page is general information, not legal advice. Whether your family can join you depends on your residence status and nationality; check with the German mission or the Ausländerbehörde before acting.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 1 — Arriving in Hannover & First Steps · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

How your spouse or partner and children can join you in Germany (Familiennachzug), what is required, and where to find support for studying with children.

2. Who needs this?

- 🌍 Non-EU students who are married or have children and want their family with them.
- 🌍 EU/EEA citizens: family members (including non-EU family members) have free-movement rights; non-EU family members may need an entry visa, which is issued free of charge and quickly (Make it in Germany – Family reunification).

3. Steps

1. General requirements for a non-EU spouse: usually adequate health insurance, sufficient money to support the family and enough living space; both spouses must be at least 18 (Make it in Germany – Spouses joining non-EU citizens).
2. German language for the spouse: as a basic rule, the law requires the spouse to communicate in German at a basic level (A1) (§ 30 (1) AufenthG). There are exceptions — e.g. for spouses of citizens of the visa-free countries in § 41 AufenthV and for spouses of skilled workers (Make it in Germany). ⚠️ The law has no specific exception for spouses of students; ask the German mission whether A1 is required in your case.
3. Financial proof for the family: expect to show more money than the single-student amount (rent plus the family's living costs). ⚠️ Ask the mission for the amount it applies.

4. Children: requirements depend on the child's age and the family situation (Make it in Germany – Family reunification).
5. Visa application: family members apply at the German mission responsible for their place of residence. 🌍 In some countries missions have long waiting lists or limited capacity for family reunification, or work through partners such as IOM; check your mission's website early (Federal Foreign Office – German missions abroad).
6. Documents from your country (marriage and birth certificates) may need an apostille or legalisation and a certified translation. 🌍 Which one depends on the issuing country — ask the German mission in that country (Federal Foreign Office – German missions abroad). ⚠️
7. After arrival: family members must register their address and get a residence permit before their visa expires; book the Ausländerbehörde appointment early (Make it in Germany). → 5. Registering your address, 10. Residence permit
8. Work for spouses: spouses who join a student generally may work. ⚠️ Check the conditions noted on their residence permit.
9. Childcare and school: children aged 1+ have a legal right to a childcare place; school is compulsory from about age 6 (Make it in Germany – Childcare; Make it in Germany – School system). Child benefit (Kindergeld) may be available depending on your status (Federal Employment Agency – Child benefit).
10. Studying with children at LUH: the family service of the Office for Equal Opportunities and Diversity advises students with children (LUH – Studying with a child). → 27. ChancenVielfalt
11. Inviting family for a short visit (Schengen visitor visa): a host living in Hannover can sign a formal obligation letter (Verpflichtungserklärung) covering the guest's living costs, including medical treatment. Conditions: you live in Hannover, are at least 18, hold a residence permit valid for the whole visit, have sufficient income (last three payslips) and receive no social benefits. The fee is €29 (also if your income turns out to be insufficient), processing takes about four to five weeks, and the obligation applies for five years from the guest's entry. Apply online or by appointment at the Ausländerbehörde (City of Hannover – Verpflichtungserklärung). ⚠️ If the guest uses public funds, the host must pay them back.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 2 — Starting Your Studies · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

Admission (Zulassung) does not yet make you a student; you only become a member of the university after enrolment (Immatrikulation / Einschreibung) (LUH – Enrolment). This page explains the steps and documents.

2. Who needs this?

- All newly admitted students; 🌍 non-EU students submit more documents.
- Before applying: non-EU applicants with a foreign school certificate need a VPD from uni-assist. Bachelor's applicants with foreign certificates need German at B1 to apply and C1 to enrol, unless the programme regulations say otherwise (LUH – Language requirements). → 1. Applying and uni-assist

3. Steps

1. Know your programme type: in programmes with restricted admission (zulassungsbeschränkt) you receive an admission letter (Zulassungsbescheid) and must accept it by the stated deadline. In programmes with open admission (zulassungsfrei) there is no admission letter and you enrol directly (LUH – Enrolment).
2. Deadlines are in your admission letter. Admission letters for the winter semester are sent from August, for the summer semester from February (LUH – Enrolment).
3. In the applicant portal, open the "Einschreibung" tab; forms and the upload link are there (LUH – Enrolment).
4. 🌍 Non-EU students: scan all documents, combine them into one PDF named "SURNAME Firstname(s)_Applicantnumber.pdf" and upload it via the portal (LUH – Enrolment).
5. Pay the semester fee; you are only enrolled once the full amount has arrived. For transfers from abroad, allow for bank charges (LUH – Enrolment). → 13. Semester fee and LeibnizCard
6. Ask your health insurer to send the electronic insurance notification to the university, and upload a photo for your student card at photo.idm.uni-hannover.de (LUH – Enrolment). → 7. Health insurance

7. Conditional admission: if you have provisional admission (vorläufige Zulassung), you must meet its conditions (e.g. language certificate) by the deadline in your letter, otherwise your enrolment is cancelled (LUH – Study checklist).
8. Visa delays: if your visa will not arrive in time, contact the admissions office and the International Office before the enrolment deadline — some programmes allow a later start or deferral. ⚠️ Rules vary by programme; ask in writing.
9. After enrolment: in September (winter) or March (summer) your enrolment documents and LeibnizCard arrive by post, together with an invitation to the welcome event (LUH – Enrolment).

4. Documents and costs

1. Purpose

Every semester you must pay the semester fee (Semesterbeitrag) to renew your enrolment (Rückmeldung); otherwise you are de-registered under Lower Saxony's Higher Education Act (LUH – Re-registration). The LeibnizCard is your student ID, library card, sports card, canteen payment card and locker key in one (LUH – Study checklist).

2. Who needs this?

- All students, every semester.
- 🌍 No tuition fees for regular degree students in Lower Saxony — the same for EU and non-EU students. Only the semester fee (and, after a long study period, the long-term fee below) applies (LUH – Study costs).

3. Steps

1. First semester: use the payment reference (Verwendungszweck) stated in your admission letter (LUH – Re-registration).
2. Later semesters: log in to the portal with your IdM username and check "My Account Balance" for the amount and reference (LUH – Re-registration).
3. Transfer the full amount to: Stiftung Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz Universität Hannover · IBAN: DE51 2505 0000 0151 8129 06 · BIC: NOLADE2HXXX (LUH – Re-registration).
4. Payment reference for winter 2026/27: for 7-digit matriculation numbers "26200" + number + "7"; for 8-digit numbers "2620" + number + "7" (LUH – Re-registration). ℹ️ The prefix changes every semester.
5. It can take up to a week for the payment status to show "Cleared" (LUH – Re-registration).
6. Upload your photo before enrolment at photo.idm.uni-hannover.de. The LeibnizCard arrives by post from mid-September (winter) or March (summer), together with your LUH-ID and initial password (LUH – Study checklist).
7. The card is pre-validated for the first semester; from the second semester you must re-validate it at the validation terminals (LUH – Study checklist).

8. Print your enrolment certificate (Immatrikulationsbescheinigung) from the QIS portal (LUH – Study checklist).
9. Get your semester ticket (Deutschlandsemesterticket) through the RIDE portal with your Stud.IP login (AStA – Semester ticket). → 30. Public transport
10. Financial hardship? AStA can refund the semester-ticket part in social hardship cases, and Studentenwerk/LUH offer emergency aid (AStA – Semester ticket). → 29. Counselling, 43. Scholarships ⚠️ Check conditions and deadlines.

1. Purpose

In Germany you usually do not receive a ready-made timetable; you choose your courses yourself according to the examination regulations (Prüfungsordnung) and build your weekly schedule (LUH – Study checklist). For many international students this is the biggest difference from their home system.

2. Who needs this?

- All students, especially in the first semester.

3. Steps

1. Download and save your programme's examination and internship regulations, as they may change (LUH – Study checklist). Where to find them: Exam information & subject advice.
2. Check which modules are compulsory (Pflichtmodul) and which are electives (Wahlmodul), and how many ECTS credits each carries. One ECTS credit corresponds to about 25–30 hours of work; a full-time semester is about 30 ECTS. ℹ️ General explanation.
3. Course types: Vorlesung (lecture), Übung (exercise/tutorial), Seminar (discussion, often with a presentation or paper), Praktikum/Labor (lab). Attendance is often not checked in lectures but is required in seminars and labs. ℹ️
4. Find courses in the online course catalogue, published from 1 September (winter) and 1 March (summer): Course catalogue (LUH – Study checklist).
5. Some courses require registration in Stud.IP (LUH – Study checklist). → 17. Online systems
6. "c.t." and "s.t.": a lecture at "10 c.t." starts at 10:15 (academic quarter); "s.t." means sharp. ℹ️
7. Your first-semester timetable is usually put together during orientation week (O-Woche) with help from senior students (LUH – Study checklist). → 20. Fachschaft

8. Preparatory courses (Vorkurse), especially in engineering and science, are optional but strongly recommended (LUH – Study checklist).
9. Recognition of previous credits: if you studied elsewhere, ask your examinations office about crediting modules (Anerkennung) early. ⚠️ Rules vary by programme.

1. Purpose

In Germany you must register for exams yourself, within a fixed period. Missing the registration deadline can have serious consequences (LUH – Study checklist).

2. Who needs this?

- All students.
- 🌍 Non-EU students: study progress is also checked when you extend your residence permit (Studentenwerk – First steps). → 10. Residence permit

3. Steps

1. Find exam registration periods and the responsible contacts at Exam information & subject advice (LUH – Study checklist).
2. Read your examination regulations: how many attempts are allowed, how to withdraw, etc. ℹ️ Rules differ between programmes; your programme's regulations apply. Failing the final attempt of a compulsory module can end your studies in that programme — get advice before your last attempt.
3. Exam registration is usually done in the QIS portal. ℹ️ Some programmes use another procedure; ask your examinations office.
4. Academic integrity: plagiarism and unauthorised use of AI tools are treated as cheating. Citation conventions may differ from your home country — learn them early (ZQS and the TIB offer courses). ℹ️
5. Time management and exam anxiety: "Lernwerkstatt" workshops at ZQS (LUH – ZQS) and free psychological counselling at ptb (ptb). → 25. ZQS, 29. Counselling
6. Disadvantage compensation (Nachteilsausgleich): students with a disability or chronic illness can apply for adjusted exam conditions (e.g. extra time). → 27. ChancenVielfalt
7. Get the transcripts needed for extending your residence permit from the examinations office (Studentenwerk).

8. Know the registration periods in advance: in recent years QIS exam registration usually ran 15–31 May (summer semester) and mid to 30 November (winter semester); the second exam period has its own registration. Check the exact dates every semester in QIS and on your faculty's site. → 65. Annual student calendar

- Errors during registration (university e-mail, May 2026): if QIS shows an error, e-mail your faculty's examinations contact straight away (even at the weekend) and include your phone number — that way the problem is recorded within the deadline. Late registration is not accepted, so don't leave it to the last days.
- Deadline reminders were the most frequent study-related notice in student group chats.

🌍 For non-EU students, a leave of absence, a change of programme or withdrawal can affect your residence permit. Talk to the Ausländerbehörde and the International Office before acting. This page is not legal advice.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 2 — Starting Your Studies · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

Sometimes studies don't go to plan: illness, a semester abroad, changing interests or deciding to stop. This page explains the three official options: leave of absence (Beurlaubung), change of programme (Studiengangwechsel) and de-registration (Exmatrikulation).

2. Who needs this?

- All students facing problems or changes — especially non-EU students.

3. Steps

Leave of absence (Beurlaubung)

1. A reason is required: e.g. illness, a semester abroad, pregnancy or other personal reasons, with proof (e.g. a medical certificate) (LUH – Leave of absence).
2. When to apply: at re-registration (Rückmeldung) and at the latest by the last day of the lecture period; in exceptional cases up to one month after the semester starts. Send the "Beurlaubungsbogen" form and proof as one PDF to Studierendenverwaltung@uni-hannover.de (LUH – Leave of absence).
3. Limits: usually at most two consecutive semesters per programme and at most four semesters in total; up to six for childcare. Leave is only for full semesters and usually not possible in your first semester (exception: a semester abroad in an integrated Master's with written approval of the faculty's dean of studies) (LUH Enrolment Regulations – § 9 (PDF)).
4. Effects: during leave you cannot attend courses or take exams; the leave semester counts as a university semester but not as a subject semester. The semester fee still has to be paid, unless the fee regulations say otherwise (LUH Enrolment Regulations – § 9; LUH – Leave of absence). → 13. Semester fee

5. 🌍 Residence permit: a leave semester (e.g. for illness) is normally compatible with a student permit, but you may not be allowed to work full-time during it. ⚠️ Inform the Ausländerbehörde.

Change of programme (Studiengangwechsel)

1. You must apply again within the normal deadlines for the new programme; you remain enrolled in the old one until admitted to the new one (LUH – Change of programme).
2. 🌍 Residence: a study permit is issued for a specific programme, and the Ausländerbehörde must be told about a change. § 16b AufenthG does not regulate a change of programme explicitly; it only says the permit is extended if the study purpose can still be achieved within a reasonable time (§ 16b (2) AufenthG). ⚠️ Ask the Ausländerbehörde before you switch. → 10. Residence permit

De-registration (Exmatrikulation)

1. You can apply in writing at any time; send the signed form to Studierendenverwaltung@uni-hannover.de. De-registration is not retroactive; if you apply within one month of the start of lectures, the semester fee is refunded (LUH – De-registration).
2. 🌍 Residence after withdrawal: a study permit depends on enrolment; talk to the Ausländerbehörde before de-registering. Options may include vocational training, a job or a new programme. → 10. Residence permit, 46. After graduation
3. Struggling at the start? The university's page on difficult study starts: Studien(fehl)start. Advice → 29. Counselling

4. Documents and costs

Item	Required / possible	Notes	Source

1. Purpose

The Fachschaft (subject student council) is made up of senior students in your programme and answers questions about your subject (LUH – Study checklist). It is usually the first and friendliest place to ask.

2. Who needs this?

- All students, especially in the first semester. International students are welcome — many Fachschaften also run events in English.

3. Steps

1. Find your Fachschaft or Fachrat in the list of Fachschaften and Fachräte (LUH – Study checklist).
2. Join your programme's orientation events (O-Woche); every programme has one (LUH – Study checklist). ℹ️ These are often organised with the Fachschaft.
3. Visit the Fachschaft's office hours with questions about the curriculum, exams and experience with courses; many also collect old exams for practice. ℹ️
4. You can become an active member or representative; Fachschaft councils (Fachschaftsräte) are elected — international students can vote and stand for election. → 52. Student representation

1. Purpose

With the semester ticket (Deutschlandsemesterticket), paid with your semester fee, you can use almost all local and regional public transport in Germany at no extra cost. This page explains how to get the ticket, where it is valid and what is available for cyclists.

2. Who needs this?

- All students.

3. Steps

1. Validity: all local and regional transport throughout Germany — buses, trams (Stadtbahn), S-Bahn and regional trains. Long-distance trains (IC, ICE, EC) are not included (AStA – Semester ticket).
2. On your phone: log in to the RIDE portal with your Stud.IP login (Web-SSO) and download the ticket; it can be added to Apple Wallet or Google Wallet (AStA).
3. No smartphone: send the chip-card request form with the subject "Chipkarte" to semesterticket@asta-hannover.de (AStA).
4. Valid from: 1 October (winter) and 1 April (summer) (AStA). Always carry ID (passport, ID card or residence card) with the ticket.
5. "Gesperrt" (blocked) shown during a ticket check: open the ticket directly in the RIDE portal; the Wallet copy may be outdated. If you were fined, e-mail AStA with the subject "Bescheinigung Semesterticket" (AStA).
6. Refunds or exemption: for a stay of more than 120 consecutive days outside the ticket area, or a semester abroad or compulsory internship abroad, apply to AStA with proof (e.g. Learning Agreement) at the latest one month after lectures start (AStA – Semester ticket hardship fund rules (PDF); AStA – Semester ticket (English)). ⚠️ The refund form is no longer online; request it from mobilitaet@asta-hannover.de. A hardship fund exists for special cases — for example international students without a work permit or with a restricted one (AStA – Hardship fund portal). ⚠️ These documents date from 2017–2021; ask mobilitaet@asta-hannover.de for current conditions.

7. Local transport in Hannover: the GVH network (trams, buses and S-Bahn) — uestra.de.
8. Cycling: Hannover is flat and bike-friendly. AStA runs a bike workshop (Fahrradwerkstatt), funded by a small part of the semester fee (€1.11) (LUH – Re-registration; AStA – Bike workshop). ℹ️ Use lights after dark and lock your bike well — bike theft is common. Cyclists must follow traffic rules; fines apply.
9. Re-activate every semester: the ticket is issued anew each semester. From 1 October or 1 April log in to RIDE again and download the new ticket or add it to your Wallet (AStA – Semester ticket). → 65. Annual student calendar
10. Strikes and diversions: ÜSTRA and regiobus were on strike several times in 2024–2026, and during construction weeks parts of some lines (e.g. 4 and 5 towards Garbsen) are replaced by buses (Ersatzverkehr). Before an exam or important appointment check uestra.de or the ÜSTRA app. ℹ️ If there is a strike on an exam day, plan ahead and, if needed, e-mail your lecturer and the examinations office before the exam.

- Strike days (2025–2026): when only ÜSTRA or regiobus were on strike, the S-Bahn and regional trains (DB) usually still ran. Students got to university by bike, S-Bahn or sharing rides with friends.
- Second-hand bikes and repairs: the university bike sale and the free repair workshop (you only pay for parts) were recommended several times. → 24. AStA

1. Purpose

A guide to everyday shopping and saving money in Hannover: student discounts, bottle deposit (Pfand), shop opening hours and where to find food from home.

2. Who needs this?

- All newcomers.

3. Steps

1. Student discounts: show your enrolment certificate for discounts at theatres, the opera, cinemas, museums, adult-education courses and some companies (LUH – Study checklist).
2. Hausmarke card: a free discount card for Hannover students at more than 100 shops, restaurants, museums and clubs; get it from the Tourist Information office (hannover.de – Hausmarke).

4. ISIC card for discounts outside Germany (LUH – Study checklist).
5. Bottle deposit (Pfand): single-use bottles and cans carry a €0.25 deposit, reusable bottles usually €0.08 or €0.15. Any shop selling that type of packaging must take it back, even if bought elsewhere; shops under 200 m² only take back their own brands (Federal Environment Ministry – Single-use and reusable; Verbraucherzentrale).
6. Sundays and public holidays: shops in Lower Saxony are generally closed; only a few Sundays a year are allowed by the city (IHK Braunschweig – NLöffVZG). Do your weekend shopping on Saturday. ℹ️ Shops in the main station are an exception.
7. Discount supermarkets such as Aldi, Lidl, Penny and Netto are usually cheapest. ℹ️ General experience.
8. Food from home: Hannover has many international grocery stores (Turkish, Arabic, Persian, Asian, African, Eastern European, Latin American) and halal butchers, especially in districts such as Linden, Vahrenwald and around Steintor. ℹ️ Community tip — help us build a list on page 57. → 64. Religion, food and home communities

9. Second-hand: furniture and household goods are cheap on classified sites, at flea markets and in social department stores (Sozialkaufhaus). Halls often have "give-away" shelves. ℹ️

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 4 — Everyday Life in Hannover · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

After the first months many students sign contracts for home internet, mobile phone or electricity. German contracts have fixed terms and cancellation rules; this page summarises what to check before signing. (SIM card for the first days → 8. SIM card and internet)

2. Who needs this?

- Students living in a private flat or shared flat (WG); many Studentenwerk halls include internet (LUH – Housing).

3. Steps

1. Contract term and cancellation: phone and internet contracts can have an initial term of at most 24 months; after that they can be cancelled monthly with one month's notice. The last possible cancellation date must be shown on your bill (Verbraucherzentrale; Bundesnetzagentur – Contracts). ℹ️ If you will only stay 1–2 years, prefer monthly-cancellable plans.
2. Right of withdrawal: contracts concluded online or by phone can usually be withdrawn within 14 days without giving reasons (§ 355 BGB).
3. Student discounts: some mobile providers offer discounts with an enrolment certificate (LUH – Study checklist).
4. Electricity: if you rent a private flat you need an electricity contract. ℹ️ In halls and many WGs electricity is included in the rent; ask your landlord.
5. Beware of door-to-door and phone sales: don't sign anything at the door; ask for the offer in writing. ℹ️
6. Before leaving Germany or moving, cancel contracts in time. ℹ️ → 47. Leaving Germany
7. Problem with a contract? The consumer advice centre (Verbraucherzentrale Niedersachsen) helps; telephone advice without appointment is free, in-person advice needs an appointment (Verbraucherzentrale – Hannover office).

🩺 Medical disclaimer

This page is not medical advice, diagnosis or treatment and does not replace an examination or advice from a doctor, psychotherapist or pharmacist. Make decisions about illness, medicines and treatment only with them. In an emergency call 112 immediately; outside surgery hours call 116117. Names of doctors or clinics (where given) come from public registers and are not a recommendation, endorsement or guarantee by ISL.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 4 — Everyday Life in Hannover · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

In Germany you usually see a general practitioner (Hausarzt) first, who refers you to a specialist if needed. This page explains how to find a doctor, where to go at night and at weekends, and how pharmacies work.

2. Who needs this?

- All students with health insurance. → 7. Health insurance

3. Steps

1. Always carry the insurance card your insurer sends you and show it at the practice. ℹ️ If you don't have the card yet, ask your insurer for a temporary certificate. 🌍 EU students with an EHIC show the EHIC.
2. Finding a doctor and booking appointments: the official service 116117 (phone and 116117.de) helps find doctors and arrange appointments. ℹ️ Many practices list the languages they speak; online booking platforms let you filter by language.
3. Nights, weekends and holidays (non-urgent): the on-call medical service (ärztlicher Bereitschaftsdienst) via 116117 (116117.de).
4. Emergency and danger to life: 112 → 37. Emergency numbers
5. Pharmacy (Apotheke): prescription medicines require a doctor's prescription (Rezept). Find the on-duty pharmacy with the free postcode search at aponet.de; pharmacies may charge €2.50 at night (usually 20:00–06:00), on Sundays and holidays, which your insurer pays if the doctor writes "noctu" on the prescription (aponet – On-duty pharmacy search).

6. Co-payment for medicines (Zuzahlung): 10% of the price, at least €5 and at most €10, never more than the medicine itself; under-18s are exempt (Federal Ministry of Health – Co-payment rules (PDF)).
7. 🌍 Bringing medicines from home: some medicines that are legal in your country are controlled in Germany. Carry a prescription or doctor's letter (in English or German); for narcotics you need a certificate under the Schengen rules or a doctor's certificate (BfArM – Travelling with narcotic drugs).
8. Dentist: check-ups are covered by statutory insurance; many treatments require a co-payment. ℹ️ Ask for a cost estimate (Heil- und Kostenplan) first.
9. Mental health: free ptb counselling at the university → 29. Counselling
10. Sick note (Arbeitsunfähigkeitsbescheinigung): see or call a doctor on the day you fall ill. The start of the illness can be backdated only exceptionally and usually by at most three days (G-BA – Decision on the AU guideline 2015 (PDF)). For missing an exam, your programme's rules for a medical certificate (Attest) apply. → 18. Exams
11. Hospital emergency department (Notaufnahme) is for serious and urgent cases; for ordinary illness outside surgery hours call 116117, which sends you to an on-call practice (116117.de).
12. Finding a doctor who speaks English or your language: open arztsuche.116117.de, enter the speciality (e.g. `Hausarzt` for a GP) and your postcode, then under Filter → Fremdsprachen tick your language. On 25.10.2026 there were more than 120 English-speaking practices within 25 km of Hannover. ℹ️ Dentists are listed separately by the Lower Saxony dental association (KZVN – Dentist search), which had no language filter — ask when booking.

Unwritten rules

13. GP first. For most problems go to your Hausarzt first; they refer you (Überweisung) to a specialist, and specialist appointments are easier to get with a referral.
14. Everything works by appointment. Call or book online; many practices also have an open consultation hour (offene Sprechstunde) without appointment.
15. Cancel appointments you can't attend. Some practices charge for missed appointments. ⚠️ Ask each practice about its rules.
16. Show your insurance card at your first visit each quarter.
17. Keep a list of your medicines and medical history (in English is fine) on your phone. Pharmacies don't accept prescriptions from other countries; show your old prescription to a German GP to get a German one, and bring enough of your regular medicine for the first months.

Dentist with statutory insurance

18. Free check-up every six months: statutory insurance pays one check-up per half-year for adults; tartar removal once a year and a gum check (PSI) every two years. Professional tooth cleaning (PZR) is usually private — some insurers pay part of it (Verbraucherzentrale – Which dental check-ups does insurance pay?).
19. Get a bonus booklet (Bonusheft) from day one. For crowns, bridges and dentures your insurer pays 60% of the standard treatment; 70% if you had at least one check-up every year for the last five years, and 75% after ten years of regular check-ups (§ 55 SGB V). Have every check-up stamped.
20. Fillings: insurance pays the standard material; if you choose a more expensive one you pay the difference (Verbraucherzentrale – Dental services covered by statutory insurance).
21. Private dental bills: the fee factor ranges from 1 to 3.5; 2.3 is the standard, and anything higher must be justified by difficulty or time (§ 5 GOZ). Ask for a written cost estimate before expensive treatment and check it with your insurer — some treatments must be approved before they start.

22. Unfinished treatment from home: if you have an implant or treatment started abroad, bring the records and X-rays; some German surgeons will not continue another dentist's work. ℹ️

4. Documents and costs

- Prescriptions from home were not accepted by pharmacies; students showed their old prescription to a German GP and got a German one.
- No GP yet: several students were seen during a nearby practice's open consultation hour. Many booked specialist appointments via Doctolib or 116117; an urgency code on the referral got appointments faster.
- Emergency department: long waits in the Notaufnahme are normal — patients are seen by urgency, not arrival time.
- Privacy: share lists of recommended doctors by private message, not in public groups.

2. Tandem: practise with a German speaker who is learning your language (LLC – Tandem).
3. Self-directed learning (SDL) at the LLC (LLC).
4. Study-Buddy for cultural exchange (LUH – Study-Buddy).
5. Volkshochschule Hannover (adult education centre): German courses and integration courses outside the university; free German-course advice without appointment on Thursdays 14:00–16:00 (VHS Hannover – German advice). Course list, including neighbourhood courses: VHS Hannover – German courses.
6. Free online courses: Deutsche Welle offers free courses from A1 to C1 (DW – Learn German); the Goethe-Institut has free practice material (Goethe-Institut – Practise German). The Federal Employment Agency publishes a list of free websites and apps for learning German (Federal Employment Agency – Free online German courses (PDF)).
7. Recognised certificates: TestDaF, DSH, Goethe-Zertifikat and telc are widely accepted; check which one your programme or employer accepts (TestDaF).
    - For university admission DSH, TestDaF or telc C1 Hochschule are usually accepted; for permanent residence and many jobs, level B1 (LUH – Language certificates). → 46. After graduation

What worked for students

8. Class plus daily practice: a class alone is not enough; 20–30 minutes of listening and repeating aloud (shadowing) every day made the biggest difference. ℹ️ Student experience.
9. Connect German to your life: tandem, a university sports course in German, a student job and university events. → 34. Sports and culture, 51. Events
10. Credits for language courses: in some programmes LLC courses count towards your degree; ask your faculty about the form and conditions. ℹ️

- LLC courses satisfied most students; places fill quickly, registration is through Stud.IP with a placement test, and allowed absences are limited.
- Private language schools were more expensive for intensive courses (e.g. to go from B1 to C1 quickly); students asked for a trial lesson or others' experience first. ℹ️ This handbook does not recommend any school.
- Speaking takes time: several students said their speaking improved more through daily practice and real situations (work, tandem, sports club) than through classes.
- Textbooks: common course books (e.g. the Netzwerk series) were often swapped second-hand.

1. Purpose

In Germany waste must be separated and buildings have house rules (Hausordnung). Ignoring them is the most common cause of trouble with neighbours and landlords.

2. Who needs this?

- All residents of the city and region of Hannover.

3. Steps

Waste separation in the Hannover region

1. Yellow bin (Gelbe Tonne): lightweight packaging (plastic, metal, cartons); it replaced the yellow bag and is free for residents (hannover.de – Yellow bin). In the city, aha is responsible; outside the city, Remondis (hannover.de – Yellow bag).
2. Organic bin (Biotonne): replaced organic-waste bags across the region on 1 August 2024. Plastic (even "bioplastic"), cooked food, nappies and pet litter are not allowed (hannover.de).
3. Residual waste (Restabfalltonne): bins have replaced bags since early 2024 (hannover.de).
4. Paper (Altpapiertonne): since August 2025 collected only in paper bins (hannover.de).
5. Glass: separate by colour (white, brown, green) into glass containers (aha – Glass). ℹ️ Avoid using them at night and on Sundays (noise).
6. Bulky waste (Sperrmüll): collection of up to 5 m^3 is free by appointment; each item max. 2 m long and 75 kg. Put items out on collection day by 6:00, not earlier (aha – Bulky waste collection). You can also take up to 1 m^3 per day free to a recycling centre (Wertstoffhof).
7. Collection calendar for your address: aha-region.de. The aha app also sends reminders.

House rules

1. Get the house rules (Hausordnung) from your landlord and read them (stairwell cleaning, quiet hours, etc.). ℹ️

2. Quiet hours (Ruhezeiten) usually apply at night (often 22:00–06:00) and on Sundays and public holidays; details are in the Hausordnung. ℹ️
3. Air regularly (Lüften) — open windows wide for a few minutes several times a day — to prevent mould. ℹ️
4. Heating and electricity are often billed annually; a large back-payment can follow if you heat a lot. ℹ️ Check your Nebenkosten statement.

4. Documents and costs

Item	Required / possible	Notes	Source
Yellow bin	—	Free	hannover.de
Bulky waste collection	—	Up to 5 m^3 free; express service costs extra	aha
Waste fees	Possible	ℹ️ Usually part of the service charges (Nebenkosten); ask your landlord	—

1. Calling 112: say where you are, what happened, who is calling and how many people are injured; then wait for questions (BBK – First aid and emergency call; hannover.de – Emergency services). Operators usually also speak English.
2. If you cannot speak, the official nora app allows a silent emergency call (BBK).
3. Warning apps: NINA (federal warning app) sends alerts about fire, floods, severe weather and other dangers for your location (BBK – NINA). 4. Lost passport or residence card: inform the Ausländerbehörde immediately and report theft to the police. 🌍 Only your own country's embassy or consulate can issue a new passport (EU citizens can also get emergency help from any EU country's embassy if theirs is not reachable); the Ausländerbehörde issues the new residence card, which can take 4–8 weeks (City of Munich – Loss of residence documents; City of Wiesbaden). ℹ️ Ask the Hannover Ausländerbehörde for its exact procedure. → 10. 9. Heat waves: follow heat and severe-weather warnings at DWD – Warnings or in NINA. Drink enough water and avoid going out at midday.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 4 — Everyday Life in Hannover · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

A foreign driving licence is valid in Germany for a limited time only — and the rules depend heavily on the country that issued it. This page explains how long you can drive with it and how to convert it into a German licence (Umschreibung).

2. Who needs this?

- 🌍 EU/EEA licences remain valid in Germany without conversion (until their expiry date) (§ 28 FeV – EU/EEA licences).
- 🌍 Non-EU licences: see the steps below. Whether you need driving tests to convert depends on the country (Annex 11 FeV).
- ℹ️ With the semester ticket you rarely need a car. → 30. Public transport

3. Steps

1. Validity of a non-EU licence: valid for six months after you take up ordinary residence in Germany (§ 29 FeV).
2. Extension: the licensing authority can extend this by up to six months if you prove you will not stay in Germany longer than twelve months (§ 29 FeV). ℹ️ For students staying several years this rarely applies — apply for conversion early.
3. Translation: a licence not in German needs a translation from an internationally recognised automobile club of the issuing country or from a body designated by the German Transport Ministry — or an International Driving Permit (§ 29 FeV).
4. 🌍 Which countries need no tests? Annex 11 FeV lists countries whose class B licences are converted without theory and practical tests — among them Albania, Andorra, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Israel, Japan, Kosovo, Monaco, Montenegro, Namibia, New Zealand, North Macedonia, Serbia, Singapore, South Africa, South Korea, Switzerland, Taiwan, Ukraine, the United Kingdom, all Australian states and Canadian provinces, and many US states (some US states need the theory test only). Licences from countries not on the list (most countries in Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Middle East) need both a theory and a practical test (Annex 11 FeV). ⚠️ Check the current list for your country/state.

5. Conversion (city of Hannover): apply in person with an appointment at the city's driving licence office (Fahrerlaubnisbehörde). Processing takes about three to four weeks (hannover.gov.de – Conversion of third-country licences).
6. If tests are needed: you must register with a driving school, which registers you for the tests; lessons are not mandatory by law, but practical test preparation usually requires some. The theory test can be taken in several foreign languages, including English. ⚠️ Ask your driving school which languages are offered.
7. Residents of the Hannover region (outside the city) apply at the Region Hannover licensing office (hannover.de – Foreign driving licence).

4. Documents and costs

Item	Required / possible	Notes	Source
ID card or passport	Required	—	hannover.gov.de

This page is general information, not legal advice. Check that your passport and residence card are valid before travelling.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 4 — Everyday Life in Hannover · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

With a German residence card you can make short trips to other Schengen countries. This page explains the 90/180-day rule and what to check before travelling.

2. Who needs this?

- 🌍 Non-EU students with a national type D visa or German residence permit.
- 🌍 EU/EEA and Swiss citizens travel freely with their ID card or passport.

3. Steps

1. Basic rule: holders of a national residence permit of a Schengen state (and of a national type D visa) may stay in other Schengen states for up to 90 days in any 180-day period while it is valid (Federal Foreign Office – Schengen Agreement).
2. Calculating 90/180: always count back 180 days from the day in question; the days of entry and exit count as days of stay (Federal Foreign Office – Calculating the length of stay). The EU's short-stay calculator helps (European Commission – Short-stay calculator).
3. Working in other countries: this travel right does not include permission to work there (Federal Foreign Office – Visa for Germany).
4. Entry/Exit System (EES): since late 2025 the EU registers non-EU travellers at external Schengen borders biometrically. Holders of a Schengen residence permit are exempt but should show it at border control (European Union – EES). ⚠️
5. Non-Schengen countries (e.g. the UK, Ireland, Türkiye) have their own entry rules; you may need a separate visa or electronic travel authorisation depending on your nationality. ℹ️ Check the destination's rules first.

6. If your permit is being renewed and you only have a Fiktionsbescheinigung, ask the Ausländerbehörde before travelling. ⚠️ Re-entry and travel rules with a Fiktionsbescheinigung depend on its type. → 10. Residence permit
7. 🌍 Travelling to your home country: if your residence card expires while you are abroad, you will need a new visa to return (City of Wiesbaden). Stays outside Germany longer than six months can also cause a residence permit to lapse (§ 51 AufenthG). ℹ️ Check your card's validity before long trips.

4. Documents and costs

Item	Required / possible	Notes	Source
Valid passport	Required	—	Federal Foreign Office
Valid residence card or national D visa	Required	—	Federal Foreign Office

This page is general information, not legal or tax advice. Work rules for non-EU students depend on your residence permit; check with the Ausländerbehörde before starting a job.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 5 — Work, Finance & Career · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

This page explains the types of student jobs (HiWi, Werkstudent, Minijob) and the legal limits on working as a student; breaking these limits can put your residence permit at risk.

2. Who needs this?

- All students.
- 🌍 EU/EEA and Swiss students may work without residence-law limits, like German students (social-insurance rules still apply) (Make it in Germany – Working while studying).
- 🌍 Non-EU students with a study permit are limited as described below. Refugees and people with temporary protection have different rules → 63. Refugees and protection status.

3. Steps

1. Limit for non-EU students: without approval from the Federal Employment Agency, at most 140 working days per year, tracked as a working-day account (§ 16b (3) AufenthG; Make it in Germany).
2. How days are counted: whichever method is more favourable for you, week by week: (a) a day with up to 4 hours of work counts as half a day, longer days as full days; or (b) up to 20 hours per week during the lecture period, and any number of hours per week during semester breaks, count as 2.5 working days (§ 16b (3) AufenthG).
3. Student side jobs (studentische Nebentätigkeiten) — e.g. HiWi jobs at the university — do not count towards the 140 days (§ 16b (3) AufenthG). ℹ️ Ask the Ausländerbehörde whether your specific job qualifies.
4. Internships: a compulsory internship in your curriculum counts as part of your studies; a voluntary internship outside it counts towards the limit or needs approval from the Federal Employment Agency (BA)

(BA – Technical instructions (PDF)). → 45. Career service and internships

5. Self-employment/freelancing is not covered by the 140 days and needs separate permission from the Ausländerbehörde. ⚠️
6. Types of jobs:
   - HiWi (studentische Hilfskraft): student assistant at a university institute; ads on institute websites and the university job page.
   - Werkstudent: subject-related work at companies, usually at most 20 hours per week during the semester.
   - Minijob: earnings up to €603 per month in 2026 (€7,236 per year) (Deutsche Rentenversicherung; iww.de).
7. Minimum wage: €13.90 per hour in 2026, €14.60 from 1 January 2027 (Federal Government – Minimum wage). This applies to everyone regardless of nationality.
8. Social security number (Sozialversicherungsnummer): issued automatically and free of charge with your first job subject to social insurance (Deutsche Rentenversicherung).
9. Work is not enough to finance your studies: the Ausländerbehörde expects your livelihood to be secured independently of a job. ℹ️
10. Tax, insurance and payslips → 42. Tax and payslips
11. Employment-law advice for international students: AStA (AStA); the DGB's "Faire Mobilität" also advises foreign workers in many languages (Faire Mobilität). → 24. AStA

2. Who needs this?

- Students looking for a student job, internship or first job after graduation.

3. Steps

6. Job portals: the Federal Employment Agency's job exchange (BA – Jobsuche) and the official portal for international professionals (Make it in Germany – Job listings).
7. German CV (Lebenslauf): usually tabular and in reverse chronological order, one to two pages, sent with a cover letter (Anschreiben) and relevant certificates. A photo and date of birth are common but not required — employers may not discriminate on such grounds (General Equal Treatment Act). ℹ️ Sample templates: Europass CV.
8. 🌍 Foreign degrees and professions: for regulated professions (e.g. teaching, medicine, some engineering titles) you need formal recognition; the "Recognition Finder" tells you what applies (Recognition in Germany – Recognition Finder).

Where to find job ads

9. jobicco (LUH): short-term and part-time student jobs such as tutoring, retail and events (jobicco Uni Hannover).
10. Stellenticket (LUH): internships, working-student (Werkstudent) jobs, theses in companies, trainee programmes, graduate jobs and research assistant positions, run with the Career Service (Stellenticket LUH).

17. Tailor each application: a short cover letter that answers the requirements of that ad; send all documents as one PDF. ℹ️
18. Follow up: if you hear nothing after about two weeks, send a short, polite e-mail. ℹ️

- General job or one in your field? Students tried both: general jobs (bakery, cashier, warehouse, phone support) are found faster, while Werkstudent jobs help your career. Common advice: start applying for Werkstudent jobs early in your studies — you don't need perfect German or full skills.

- Apply every day: several students filtered job portals by "last 24 hours" and "part-time", sent a few applications every day, and got answers.
- German: for general jobs, even basic German greatly improved the chances. → 35. Learning German
- Pension insurance number: HiWi contracts ask for it; it is on the letter from your insurer or on a previous payslip.

1. Purpose

When you work, you receive a payslip (Gehaltsabrechnung) showing deductions for tax and insurance. This page explains the basics and how to get tax back with a tax return.

2. Who needs this?

- Students with a job. → 40. Student jobs

3. Steps

1. Give your tax ID (Steuer-ID) to your employer. → 9. Tax ID
2. Basic tax-free allowance (Grundfreibetrag) 2026: €12,348 per year; income up to this amount is tax-free (Federal Ministry of Finance – Monthly report Feb 2026).
3. Minijobs up to €603 per month have simpler rules. → 40. Student jobs
4. Insurance in student jobs: working up to 20 hours a week during the semester, you are exempt from health, long-term care and unemployment insurance, but pay pension insurance on earnings over €603 per month. Working more than 20 hours (except in semester breaks, or evenings/weekends for up to 26 weeks) means all insurances apply (DRV – Student employee privilege).
5. Tax return (Steuererklärung): if tax was deducted during the year but your annual income was below the allowance, you can usually get it back — up to four years retroactively. Official free system: ELSTER (English interface available). ℹ️ For your own case, consult a tax adviser or a wage-tax assistance association (Lohnsteuerhilfeverein).
6. 🌍 Double taxation agreements: Germany has treaties with many countries; some contain special rules for students (e.g. on payments from home). Check the treaty with your country (Federal Ministry of Finance – Double taxation agreements). ⚠️

7. Church tax (Kirchensteuer): may be deducted depending on the religion you declared at registration (LUH – Entry and Residence). → 5. Registering your address

1. Purpose

This page lists financial aid and scholarships that students — especially international students — in Hannover can apply for, from emergency aid to long-term scholarships.

2. Who needs this?

- All students; some aid is only for non-EU students.
- 🌍 BAföG (state student finance) is usually only for German students, but some international students qualify — e.g. EU citizens who have lived/worked in Germany long enough, recognised refugees and some people with long-term residence (§ 8 BAföG – eligible foreign nationals; LUH – Study checklist). ⚠️ Ask Studentenwerk's BAföG office.

3. Steps

1. Emergency aid (Notfall-Beihilfe) from the International Office: for sudden financial crises not caused by you, e.g. theft, fire, sudden job loss or illness. The amount is not fixed, it is usually paid only once during your studies and there is no legal right to it (LUH – Financial aid for international students).
2. Degree-completion aid (Studienabschlussbeihilfe): for non-EU students with a study residence permit in their thesis phase; partial monthly payments. Application periods each year: 1–31 January, 1–31 March, 1–31 July and 1–31 October, followed by a 20–30-minute interview (LUH).
3. AStA: short-term loans (Darlehen) and the subsidised canteen card (Mensafreitisch) (LUH). → 24. AStA
4. KED and KHG (church organisations): advice and emergency financial aid, regardless of religion (LUH).
5. Deutschlandstipendium: €300 per month for two semesters, for German and international students of all subjects. 2026/27 round: applications 10 August – 30 September 2026 via the university's online portal (LUH – Deutschlandstipendium news; LUH – Deutschlandstipendium). ℹ️ Check the next deadline around August 2027.
6. DAAD scholarship database: search by country of origin, subject and degree level (DAAD – Scholarship database). 🌍 Many DAAD programmes are country-specific — apply from your home country, often a year in advance.

7. Political and religious foundations (Begabtenförderungswerke) also fund international students, e.g. Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung, Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung, Heinrich-Böll-Stiftung, Rosa-Luxemburg-Stiftung, Evangelisches Studienwerk, Cusanuswerk and the Avicenna-Studienwerk for Muslim students (Stipendium Plus – the foundations).
8. 🌍 Home-country scholarships: many governments fund study in Germany (ask your ministry of education or the German embassy).

This page is general information, not legal advice. The right residence permit depends on your personal situation; talk to the Ausländerbehörde before acting.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 5 — Work, Finance & Career · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

After graduation your study permit is no longer enough. This page explains the legal ways to stay in Germany: job-seeker residence, residence for skilled work, the EU Blue Card (Blaue Karte EU) and permanent residence (Niederlassungserlaubnis).

2. Who needs this?

- 🌍 Non-EU graduates of German universities. EU, EEA and Swiss citizens do not need a residence permit (Make it in Germany – Prospects after graduation).
- 🌍 Citizens of the § 41 AufenthV countries (e.g. USA, Canada, Japan, UK) may take up any employment and apply for the permit in Germany (§ 26 BeschV). ⚠️

3. Steps

1. Act in time: apply for the new permit before your study permit expires (Make it in Germany). → 10. Residence permit
2. Job-seeker residence: up to 18 months to find a job matching your qualification (§ 20 AufenthG). During these 18 months any work is allowed, and the permit cannot be extended (Make it in Germany).
3. Requirements: successful degree, health insurance and secured living costs (Make it in Germany; § 20 AufenthG).
4. With a job offer: a qualified job offer lets you get a residence permit for skilled workers or a Blue Card. The job need not match your subject, except for the Blue Card; regulated professions need a licence (Make it in Germany).

5. EU Blue Card: university degree, employment contract of at least six months, and an annual salary of at least 50% of the pension-insurance contribution ceiling; 45.3% for graduates within three years of their degree and shortage occupations (§ 18g AufenthG). 2026 amounts: €50,700 and, for recent graduates and shortage occupations, €45,934.20 per year (Make it in Germany – EU Blue Card (PDF)).
6. Permanent residence (Niederlassungserlaubnis): for those who studied in Germany, after two years with a skilled-work permit or Blue Card and 24 months of pension contributions, plus "sufficient German" and other conditions (§ 18c AufenthG). Blue Card holders can qualify sooner with B1 German (§ 18c (2) AufenthG).
7. Naturalisation: since 2024 German citizenship is possible after 5 years of legal residence (with conditions), and multiple citizenship is generally allowed (BAMF – Naturalisation in Germany). ⚠️ Rules may change; check the current law. 🌍 Whether you may keep your original citizenship also depends on your home country's law.
8. Doctorate or vocational training are further ways to stay; each has its own residence permit (Make it in Germany).
9. Self-employment after graduation → 44. Starting a business

1. Purpose

Finishing your studies or leaving Germany has its own paperwork. If it is not done, bills and contracts may continue after you leave. This page lists what to do.

2. Who needs this?

- Students who have finished or are leaving Germany — and those just moving to another city (new registration → 5. Registering your address).

3. Steps

1. Deregister your address (Abmeldung): if you are not moving to a new address in Germany, deregister within two weeks of moving out; at the earliest one week before (§ 17 BMG). In the city of Hannover this is free (hannover.gov.de – Deregistration). Keep the deregistration certificate — banks, insurers and the broadcasting fee service ask for it.
2. Broadcasting fee: deregister (Rundfunkbeitrag – Deregister). → 9. Tax ID and official letters
3. Contracts: cancel phone, internet, electricity and gym in time; phone and internet contracts can be cancelled with one month's notice after the minimum term (Verbraucherzentrale). → 32. Contracts
4. Housing: give notice according to your contract and get your deposit back. ℹ️ The notice period is in your contract (usually three months for private flats). → 4. Accommodation
5. Health insurance: tell your insurer that you are finishing or leaving. ℹ️ Student insurance ends after de-registration from the university; ask your insurer for details. → 7. Health insurance
6. University: de-registration (Exmatrikulation) and returning library items. → 19. Leave and withdrawal
7. Bank account and tax: close the account after the last bills are paid and check a tax return for your final year to reclaim overpaid tax. → 6. Bank account, 42. Tax

8. Blocked account: close it with your provider once you no longer need it; any remaining balance is paid out. ℹ️
9. 🌍 Pension contributions refund: non-EU citizens who leave Germany permanently can usually apply for a refund of their own pension contributions after 24 months outside Germany — not if you are from a country with a social security agreement that counts German periods (e.g. USA, Canada, India, Japan, Korea, Türkiye) or an EU/EEA country (Deutsche Rentenversicherung – Refund of contributions (German)). ⚠️ Check your case with the DRV.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 6 — Student Community & Engagement · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

In Germany students have a share and representatives in running the university. This page explains the structure of student representation at LUH and how to take part.

2. Who needs this?

- Students who want student voices — including international students' voices — to be heard.
- Voting rights: all enrolled students, regardless of nationality, can vote in student elections (LUH – Bodies & committees).

3. Steps

1. Student body (Studierendenschaft): all students are members, and part of the semester fee (€15.80) goes to it (LUH – Re-registration).
2. Student Council (Studentischer Rat, StuRa): a kind of student parliament made up of representatives of the faculties' Fachschaft councils and members elected directly by all students. Elections are online, and terms last two semesters (LUH – Bodies & committees; Student body election rules (PDF)).
3. AStA: the executive committee of the student body; it is not elected directly by students but by the StuRa, to which it is accountable (LUH – Bodies & committees). → 24. AStA
4. Fachschaft and Fachrat: student representation for each subject; Fachschaft councils are elected in the student elections (Fachschaften). → 20. Fachschaft
5. Foreign students' commission (AusländerInnenkommission): supported by AStA; advises university committees on improving the situation of international students (AStA).
6. University bodies (Senate and faculty councils): include student representatives. ⚠️ Check the number of seats and election dates at Bodies & committees.
7. Statutes and regulations: AStA – Statutes and regulations.

8. 🌍 Political activity: non-EU citizens enjoy freedom of expression and assembly in Germany; political activity at university is legal. ℹ️ If you fear consequences from your home country's authorities, talk confidentially to the International Office or AStA.

3. Questions and answers

What should I do first? Register your address (Anmeldung) — the bank, Steuer-ID, library and residence permit all depend on it (Studentenwerk). → 5. Registering your address

I don't have a permanent home yet — can I register? Yes, a temporary address works if you have a Wohnungsgeberbestätigung; register again after moving (Studentenwerk; hannover.gov.de). → 5. Registering your address

🌍 Do I need a visa? EU/EEA and Swiss citizens: no. Citizens of Australia, Canada, Israel, Japan, New Zealand, South Korea, the UK and the USA (and, for study only, Andorra, Brazil, El Salvador, Honduras, Monaco and San Marino) can enter without a visa and apply for a residence permit in Germany. 🌍 I am a refugee / from Ukraine — can I study? Yes; there are special advice services and rules. → 63. Refugees and people with protection status The room ad says "no Anmeldung possible" — should I take it? Only for the first few weeks. The landlord must legally confirm your move-in within two weeks, and without registration your bank account and residence permit are delayed (§ 19 BMG). → 4. Accommodation

How much cash can I bring to Germany? There is no limit, but €10,000 or more must be declared in writing to customs when you enter from outside the EU (Zoll). → 3. Arriving in Hannover

💬 About this page: 🐞 Report an error or broken link · 💡 Suggest an idea · ✍️ Share an experience · ✏️ Edit it yourself

This page is general information, not legal advice. Passport and legalisation rules are set by your own country and by the German mission there, and can change without notice.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 7 — Resources & Appendices · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

Questions about renewing a passport, certified translations and certified copies come up again and again. This page explains what is done in Germany, what can only be done in your home country, and where to go.

2. Who needs this?

- Students whose passport is about to expire or must be replaced.
- Anyone who needs a translation or certified copy for the university, the Ausländerbehörde, an insurer, an employer or the driving-licence office.

3. Steps

A) Your passport

1. Check your passport's validity early. A German residence permit is usually issued at most until your passport expires, so renew or replace your passport before applying to extend your residence permit. → 10. Residence permit ⚠️ Based on student experience; ask the Ausländerbehörde.
2. Your legal duties: apply for a new passport in good time before it expires, and report a lost passport to the Ausländerbehörde without delay (§ 56 AufenthV).
3. 🌍 Where: only your own country's embassy or consulate can issue a passport. Find it in the Federal Foreign Office's list (Federal Foreign Office – Missions of other states in Germany). Many countries require an online application first and an in-person visit for identification; consulates outside Berlin may offer only some services — check before you travel.

4. 🌍 Military service, deposits or study obligations in your home country are decided only by your country's authorities and embassy; ask them before changing anything (e.g. your place of residence in your passport, or travelling home).
5. After you get a new passport: your passport number is linked to your residence card. Tell the Ausländerbehörde about the new passport and, until your card is updated, carry the old passport as well, especially when travelling. ℹ️ Student experience.

B) Documents from your home country: translation, legalisation and evaluation

1. Certified translation in Germany: German offices usually accept translations by a sworn translator (beeidigte/ermächtigte Übersetzer). Search the official joint database of the German state courts by language (justiz-dolmetscher.de).
2. 🌍 Apostille or legalisation: whether a foreign document needs an apostille or legalisation depends on the issuing country, and for many countries it can only be done there. Ask the German mission in that country (Federal Foreign Office – German missions abroad) and ask the German office or university whether it needs it — before you leave home.
3. Evaluation of a foreign degree: for work or further studies, a statement of comparability (Zeugnisbewertung) is issued by the ZAB. You apply online with a BundID account; processing takes about three months once all documents are in (ZAB – Statement of comparability). → 1. Applying, 46. After graduation
4. AI translation is fine for understanding a document, but it is not a certified translation. If an office asks for a certified one, you can send an unofficial translation for now and say that the certified one is on its way. ℹ️ Student experience.

C) Certified copies (Beglaubigung) in Hannover

1. At the university: the LUH certification office (Beglaubigungsstelle) certifies free of charge documents issued by LUH or needed for use at LUH; Monday–Friday 09:00–12:00, by appointment only. Bring the original and a copy; you usually get it back on the spot (LUH – Certification office).
2. For other purposes: a Bürgeramt or a notary (Notar), for a fee. ℹ️ Some universities and offices accept only notarised copies — ask the receiving office.

4. Documents and costs

Item	Required / possible	Notes	Source
Current passport, ID documents, photos	Required for a new passport	🌍 Your embassy sets the exact list and fee	Missions of other states in Germany
Certified copy at LUH	Possible	Free, by appointment	LUH – Certification office
Sworn translation	Possible	Students reported about €25–30 for a short document such as a driving licence (2025–2026)	⚠️ Unofficial
ZAB statement of comparability	Possible	Online application with BundID	ZAB

5. Responsible office

- Passport: your country's embassy or consulate (Federal Foreign Office – Missions of other states in Germany)
- Certified copies at the university: Beglaubigungsstelle der Leibniz Universität Hannover, building 1101, room A112 · beglaubigungsstelle@zuv.uni-hannover.de (LUH)
- Sworn translators: justiz-dolmetscher.de — joint database of the German state courts
- Degree evaluation: Zentralstelle für ausländisches Bildungswesen (ZAB) (ZAB)

- Embassy visits (2025–2026): several students were seen without an online appointment but had to arrive very early and wait until the afternoon. Phones and bags were often handed in at the entrance. Bring copies of everything you uploaded online.
- Replacing a passport early: some embassies only replaced passports with less than six months' validity left; others accepted a change of residence as a reason. ⚠️
- Delivery: new passports were usually sent by post a few weeks later.
- Privacy: never post scans of your passport or your file numbers in public groups.

💬 About this page: 🐞 Report an error or broken link · 💡 Suggest an idea · ✍️ Share an experience · ✏️ Edit it yourself

This page is general information, not legal advice. In any serious dispute, get help from one of the free advice services below before you pay money or sign anything.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 7 — Resources & Appendices · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

Unwanted contracts, auto-renewing subscriptions, instalment purchases, deposits that were never returned, threatening e-mails and "where do I find a free lawyer?" are among the most common problems students report. This page collects your basic rights and the places that help for free.

2. Who needs this?

- All students — especially newcomers who don't read German yet and sign German contracts.

3. Steps

A) Before you sign

1. Don't sign what you don't understand. Take a copy home and translate it. Find the contract term, automatic renewal and the notice period (Kündigungsfrist). → 32. Contracts
2. Deposits and rent: don't send money without a written contract and before you have seen the flat or received the keys; state in the transfer what the money is for. A tenant may only sublet to you with the landlord's permission (§ 540 BGB). → 4. Accommodation
3. Instalment purchases: compare the monthly instalment with your real income — if your student job ends, the instalments continue. ℹ️

B) After you sign: the 14-day right of withdrawal

1. Contracts made online, by phone or away from business premises (e.g. in a café or at your door) usually come with a right of withdrawal (Widerrufsrecht) (§ 312g BGB).

2. The withdrawal period is 14 days and usually starts when the contract is made. It is enough to send the withdrawal before the deadline, and you don't need to give a reason (§ 355 BGB). Withdraw in writing (e-mail or letter) and keep proof.
3. Exceptions: custom-made goods, perishable goods, leisure or travel services for a fixed date and some other cases have no right of withdrawal (§ 312g BGB).

C) Payment demands, debt collectors (Inkasso) and court payment orders (Mahnbescheid)

1. Threatening e-mail or letter from a person or a debt-collection agency (Inkasso): neither ignoring it completely nor paying immediately is the right move. First check whether a contract actually exists, then ask the consumer advice centre. ℹ️
2. Take a Mahnbescheid seriously — a court payment order in an official yellow envelope. You have two weeks from delivery to object (Widerspruch) (§ 692 ZPO).

D) The bank won't open an account

- Everyone legally resident in the EU has the right to a basic payment account (Basiskonto); the bank must respond within ten business days (§ 31 ZKG). → 6. Bank account

E) Free help in Hannover

1. Consumer advice centre of Lower Saxony (Verbraucherzentrale): contracts, subscriptions, energy, money matters; free phone advice, in-person advice by online appointment (Verbraucherzentrale – Hannover advice centre).
2. Legal Clinic of the LUH Faculty of Law: free, out-of-court legal advice for students of all LUH faculties, given by law students supervised by experienced lawyers (Legal Clinic Hannover).
3. Studentenwerk Hannover: free legal advice for international students (hannover.de – Services for international students); social counselling by online appointment (Studentenwerk – Advice). → 23. Studentenwerk
4. AStA: advice for international students, including employment law. → 24. AStA

F) Theft, threats and fraud

1. Immediate danger: police 110. → 37. Emergency numbers

- Online fitness coach (2026): a student signed a German contract in a café and later received threatening e-mails. Advice from other students: ask for a copy of the contract before any payment, don't reply emotionally to threats, and call the Verbraucherzentrale.
- €100 "room reservation" deposit without a contract: a common scam pattern.
- Disputes with a main tenant (Hauptmieter): several students got help from the university's Legal Clinic — you send your question by e-mail and get an appointment if they can take the case.

- Ending a hall contract: get the exact end date of the contract in writing before handing back the keys, to avoid paying rent for extra months.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 7 — Resources & Appendices · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

This handbook lives on GitHub so that anyone can fix a number, report a broken link or add an experience. This page shows the two ways to help — no programming knowledge needed.

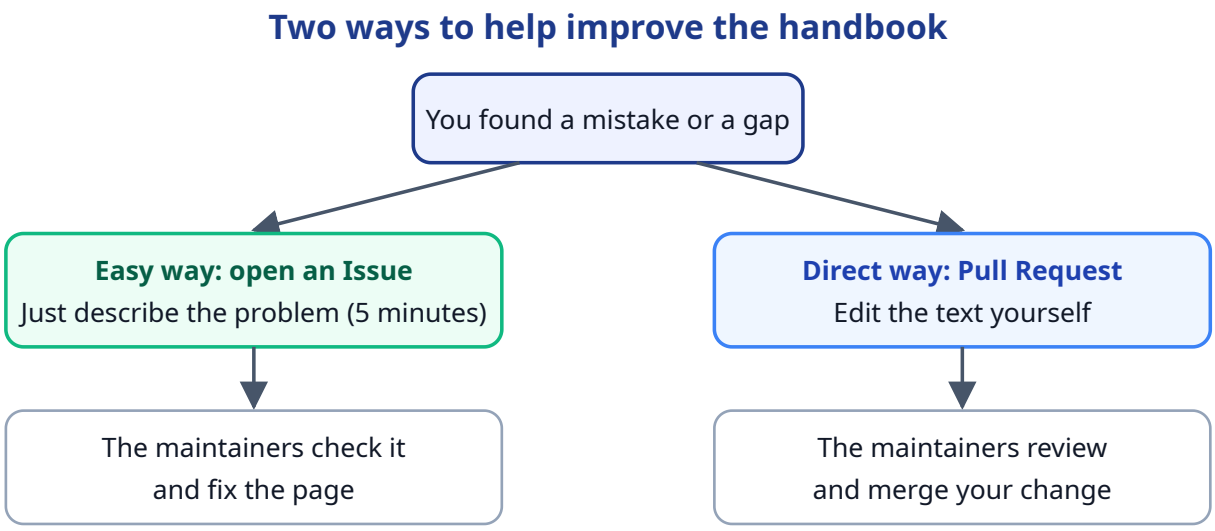

2. Who needs this?

- Anyone who found a mistake, outdated information or a gap.
- Student groups who want to keep the handbook up to date.

3. Steps

A) GitHub in one minute

GitHub is a website where the handbook's files are stored. Every change is saved with its author and date, and nothing reaches the handbook until a maintainer has checked it.

B) Step zero: create a free account

1. Go to github.com/signup and create a free account with your e-mail address (GitHub Docs – Creating an account).
2. ℹ️ Your username is public on issues and changes; choose a neutral username if you don't want your real name shown.

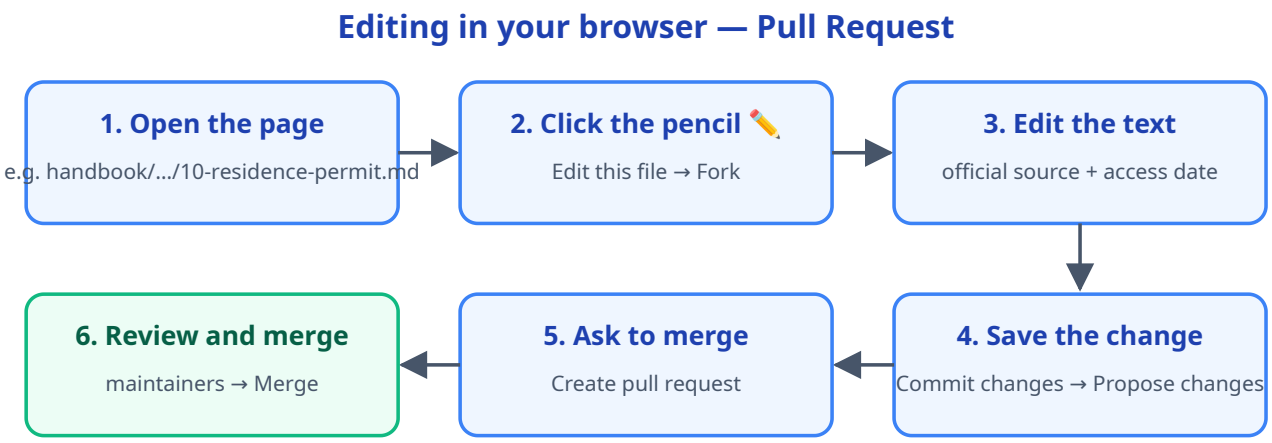

C) The easy way: report with an Issue (no Git needed)

No Git knowledge needed — just a free GitHub account

1. Sign in to GitHub and open the Issues tab of the repository.
2. Click New issue.
3. Choose one of the three templates (choose a template): broken link or error, student experience, or new topic.
4. Fill in the form: which page, what is wrong, and the correct official source if you have one.
5. Click Submit new issue. A maintainer replies and fixes the page (GitHub Docs – Creating an issue).

D) The direct way: edit in your browser with a Pull Request

In step 2 GitHub makes your own copy (fork) of the repository;
the handbook only changes once a maintainer approves.

1. Open the page you want to fix in the repository (e.g. `handbook/01-arriving-in-hannover/10-residence-permit.md`).
2. Click the pencil icon ✏️ (Edit this file) above the text. If you are not a team member, GitHub asks whether to fork the repository (make your own copy); confirm.
3. Edit the text. Main rule: every new figure, deadline or fee needs an official source link right next to it. → CONTRIBUTING.md
4. Click Commit changes…, write one short sentence about the change (e.g. "Update residence-permit fee for 2027") and click Propose changes.
5. On the next page click Create pull request and tick the checklist in the template.
6. A maintainer reads your change and may ask a question. Once approved it is merged and appears in the next PDF too (GitHub Docs – Editing files).

E) A new page

1. Open TEMPLATE.md and keep its seven-part structure.
2. Create a new file in the right section folder (Add file → Create new file), named like `69-topic-name.md`.
3. Add the page to that section's `README.md` and to the handbook contents.
4. Create a pull request as above.

F) For people who use Git

git clone https://github.com/FreeXYZ-HalfPI/Hannover-Handbook-InternationalStudents.git cd Hannover-Handbook-InternationalStudents git switch -c fix-residence-fee
edit the file
git add handbook/01-arriving-in-hannover/10-residence-permit.md git commit -m "Update residence permit fee for 2027" git push origin fix-residence-fee

Then click Compare & pull request on GitHub. Before sending, check the links (`bash tools/check_links.sh`), regenerate the sources tables (`python3 tools/build_sources.py`) and the search index (`python3 tools/build_search.py`), and build the PDF if you can (`python3 tools/build_pdf.py`). → README

G) Golden rules

1. An official source for every claim, with an access date.
2. Personal experiences only in section 7 of a page, always with a date.
3. No personal data: no names of others, phone numbers, e-mail addresses, exact addresses, passport numbers or photos of documents — neither on pages nor in issues.
4. Write simply: as if explaining to a friend who just arrived; short sentences, German terms in brackets.

4. Documents and costs

Item	Required / possible	Notes	Source

5. Responsible office

Most of this handbook applies to everyone. This section collects what is different depending on where you come from or what status you have — visa, residence, recognition, banking, protection status and community. Throughout the handbook, the 🌍 symbol marks points that depend on nationality.

Pages in this section

- 58. Which rules apply to you? — start here: overview by nationality and status
- 59. EU, EEA and Swiss citizens — free movement, EHIC, no visa or blocked account
- 60. Visa-free nationalities — Australia, Canada, Israel, Japan, New Zealand, South Korea, UK, USA and others
- 61. Visa-required countries and APS — national visa, waiting times, APS for China, India and Vietnam
- 62. Sanctions, banking and currency restrictions — money transfers, basic account, export control, consular services
- 63. Refugees and people with protection status — advice, admission, funding and temporary protection (Ukraine)
- 64. Religion, food, culture and home communities — embassies, religion, food and intercultural life

Is something specific to your country missing — for example document legalisation, typical visa waiting times or a home-country scholarship? Share it (with a date and source) on page 57.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 8 — Information by Nationality · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

As an EU/EEA or Swiss citizen you enjoy freedom of movement, so many steps in this handbook do not apply to you. This page summarises what you do and don't need.

2. Who needs this?

- Citizens of the 27 EU countries and of Iceland, Liechtenstein and Norway (EEA).
- Swiss citizens (similar rules with a few differences).
- Non-EU family members of EU citizens.

3. Steps

1. Entry: a valid passport or national ID card is enough; no visa (LUH – Entry and Residence).
2. Stays over 90 days: you must have sufficient health insurance and enough money to live on, but you do not need to prove this in advance (LUH – Entry and Residence; Freedom of Movement Act § 4). No blocked account is required.
3. Register your address like everyone else, within two weeks of moving in. → 5. Registering your address ℹ️ With an EU ID card that has an online function, you may be able to register online.
4. Residence permit: EU/EEA citizens need none. Swiss citizens must apply for a residence permit (Aufenthaltserlaubnis-CH) at the Ausländerbehörde for stays over 90 days (LUH – Entry and Residence).
5. Health insurance: if you have statutory insurance at home, bring your European Health Insurance Card (EHIC). A German statutory insurer confirms to the university that you are exempt from German student insurance. If you work more than a minijob in Germany, you usually must switch to German insurance (LUH – Health insurance; Your Europe – Health cover for students). → 7. Health insurance
6. Application: EU applicants often have later deadlines (e.g. 15 July / 15 January for many Master's programmes) and may apply directly instead of via uni-assist — check your programme (LUH – Application & admission). → 1. Applying

7. Work: no residence-law limits; social-insurance rules for students apply as for Germans. → 40. Student jobs, 42. Tax
8. BAföG: EU citizens may be eligible after five years of residence in Germany, or earlier in some cases (e.g. if you or your parents have worked in Germany) (§ 8 BAföG – eligible foreign nationals). → 43. Scholarships
9. Driving licence: EU/EEA licences remain valid; no conversion needed (§ 28 FeV). → 38. Driving licence
10. Phone and banking: EU roaming and SEPA rules apply; you may keep your home account, but landlords and employers often prefer a German IBAN. → 6. Bank account, 8. SIM card
11. Voting: EU citizens living in Germany can vote in local (municipal) and European Parliament elections (Federal Returning Officer – EU citizens).
12. Erasmus+: exchange students should contact the exchange coordinators (LUH – Exchange students).

4. Documents and costs

This page is general information, not legal advice. Check your status with the Federal Foreign Office or the Ausländerbehörde before you travel.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 8 — Information by Nationality · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

Citizens of some countries can enter Germany without a visa and apply for their study residence permit after arrival. This saves the embassy step — but there are traps, especially around working before the permit is issued.

2. Who needs this?

- Study and work, visa-free (§ 41 (1) AufenthV): Australia, Canada, Israel, Japan, New Zealand, Republic of Korea (South Korea), United Kingdom, United States (§ 41 AufenthV).
- Study only, visa-free (§ 41 (2) AufenthV): Andorra, Brazil, El Salvador, Honduras, Monaco, San Marino — only if you do not want to work before getting the permit (§ 41 AufenthV).
- 🌍 Citizens of other visa-free countries (e.g. many Latin American and some Asian countries) may only visit for 90 days as tourists — for studies you need a national visa → 61. Visa-required countries.

3. Steps

1. Entry: enter with your passport. Carry your admission letter, proof of finances and insurance in case border police ask about the purpose of your stay. ℹ️
2. Register your address within two weeks. → 5. Registering your address
3. Apply for the residence permit within 90 days of arrival at the Ausländerbehörde (online portal in the city of Hannover) (LUH – Entry and Residence). → 10. Residence permit ℹ️ Don't wait until day 89 — appointments take time; your application keeps you lawfully in Germany.

4. Proof of finances: like other non-EU students you must show about €992/month (2026), e.g. via a blocked account, scholarship or Verpflichtungserklärung (German missions in Italy). You can open a blocked account after arrival, but doing it beforehand speeds things up.
5. Working: you may not work until you hold a residence permit that allows it. Group C citizens with a national visa may work in the first 90 days; if you want to start a job immediately, the university recommends getting a visa beforehand (LUH – Entry and Residence). Group D citizens who plan to work must get a visa in their home country before arriving (LUH – Entry and Residence).
6. Health insurance: statutory student insurance after enrolment, or travel insurance until then. 🌍 US, Canadian, Israeli, Japanese, Korean and Australian citizens: some home policies are not accepted — check the § 11 SGB V requirements. ⚠️ → 7. Health insurance
7. Driving licence: many of these countries/states are on the list for conversion without tests (Annex 11 FeV). → 38. Driving licence
8. After graduation: citizens of § 41 (1) countries have easier access to the labour market. → 46. After graduation
9. 🌍 UK citizens: since Brexit, UK citizens are third-country nationals but listed in § 41 (1) AufenthV. UK citizens who lived in Germany before 2021 have special Withdrawal Agreement rights ⚠️ Ask the Ausländerbehörde if this applies to you.

This page is general information, not legal advice. Visa procedures differ between German missions and change often; your mission's website is always authoritative.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 8 — Information by Nationality · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

Most international students at LUH come from countries whose citizens need a national visa (type D) to study in Germany. This page explains the general procedure, country-specific extras such as the APS certificate, and how to cope with long waiting times.

2. Who needs this?

- Citizens of all countries not listed in 59 or 60 — for example most countries in Africa, the Middle East, South and Central Asia, South-East Asia and many Latin American countries. Check with the Federal Foreign Office – Visa requirements.
- 🌍 APS countries: applicants whose school or university education was in China, India or Vietnam.

3. Steps

General procedure

1. Find your responsible mission (the embassy or consulate for your place of residence) and read its information sheet ("Merkblatt") on student visas (Federal Foreign Office – German missions abroad).
2. Book an appointment early. Many missions use a service provider or the online Consular Services Portal, where you can upload your documents (Consular Services Portal). 🌍 In some countries waiting times are many months or there are waiting lists; book as soon as you have your admission (or as soon as the mission allows).
3. Typical documents: application form, passport, biometric photos, admission letter, proof of finances (blocked account: €992/month in 2026), health insurance, CV and certificates, language certificate, and sometimes a motivation letter (German Embassy San José – Student visa information (PDF)). → 2. Before you arrive

4. Visa fee: usually €75 (German Embassy San José – Student visa information (PDF)).
5. Processing: the mission may consult the Ausländerbehörde in Hannover; processing often takes several weeks. Apply only to the mission responsible for you — applications at other missions (e.g. in a neighbouring country) are usually rejected unless you legally reside there.
6. If your visa will be late: tell the university in writing before the enrolment deadline. → 12. Admission and enrolment
7. After arrival: register your address and apply for the residence permit before the visa expires. → 10. Residence permit
8. Rejected? You can ask the mission to reconsider (remonstration) within the period stated in the rejection; the letter explains how. ⚠️ Free advice: AStA or the Refugee Law Clinic.

APS certificate (China, India, Vietnam)

1. What it is: the Academic Evaluation Centre (Akademische Prüfstelle, APS) at the German embassy, run with the DAAD, checks the authenticity and plausibility of your school and university certificates before you apply to German universities and for your visa (TUM – APS overview; University of Saarland – APS).
2. When: apply for APS before your university application — processing can take several weeks (interviews may be required, e.g. in China and Vietnam). Your APS certificate is usually needed for the uni-assist application and the visa.
3. Where:
   - 🇨🇳 China: APS Beijing (and Shanghai) — aps.org.cn
   - 🇮🇳 India: APS India, New Delhi — aps-india.de
   - 🇻🇳 Vietnam: APS at the German Embassy Hanoi — vietnam.diplo.de (section "Akademische Prüfstelle")
4. ⚠️ Exceptions exist (e.g. for some scholarship holders or exchange students). Check your APS office's website.

Other country-specific points

- 🌍 School certificates: in many countries a school-leaving certificate alone does not give direct access to a German Bachelor's programme; you may need one or two years of university at home or the Studienkolleg (anabin; uni-assist – Country information). → 1. Applying
- 🌍 Document legalisation: some missions require certificates to be legalised or verified before accepting them. → 11. Family
- 🌍 Sanctions or banking restrictions can make paying for a blocked account difficult. → 62. Sanctions and payment restrictions

4. Documents and costs

Item	Required / possible	Notes	Source

💬 About this page: 🐞 Report an error or broken link · 💡 Suggest an idea · ✍️ Share an experience · ✏️ Edit it yourself

This page is general information, not legal or financial advice. Sanctions change frequently. Never try to get around sanctions or anti-money-laundering checks — it can lead to criminal charges and loss of your residence permit.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 8 — Information by Nationality · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

Students from some countries face extra hurdles: international bank transfers may be blocked or delayed because of EU or international sanctions, capital controls in their home country, or banks' risk policies. This page explains what to expect and where to get help — without singling out any country.

2. Who needs this?

- 🌍 Students whose home country is subject to EU sanctions (you can check this on the EU Sanctions Map) or whose government restricts money transfers abroad (EU Sanctions Map).
- Students whose family cannot easily send money to Germany.

3. Steps

1. Know the rules: EU sanctions are mostly targeted at specific persons, companies, banks and goods — they do not forbid you from studying in Germany or from having a bank account here. However, transfers from sanctioned banks may be blocked, and German banks must carry out extra checks (Deutsche Bundesbank – Financial sanctions).
2. Plan your finances early: transferring money for a blocked account can take weeks or be impossible from some countries. Ask blocked-account providers before paying whether they accept transfers from your country and in which currency. Alternatives accepted by German missions: a Verpflichtungserklärung (formal obligation letter) by someone living in Germany, or a scholarship (Federal Foreign Office (German Embassy Managua) – Blocked account). → 2. Before you arrive

3. Opening a German account: you have a legal right to a basic payment account (Basiskonto), regardless of nationality (§ 31 ZKG; BaFin). A bank may ask questions about the source of your money — keep documents (scholarship letters, family transfer receipts) ready. → 6. Bank account
4. Use legal channels only: informal money-transfer systems or carrying large amounts of cash create problems. Cash over €10,000 must be declared to customs when entering the EU (German Customs – Cash controls).
5. Semester fee and rent: pay from a German account to avoid rejected transfers. If money is stuck, tell the university before the deadline — ask the International Office for advice. → 13. Semester fee
6. Emergency financial help: if a sudden crisis in your home country cuts off your funding, the International Office's emergency aid and other funds may help. → 43. Scholarships and financial support
7. Online services and software: some services (e.g. app stores, cloud or payment services) restrict access for users from sanctioned countries. With a German address and account this is usually solved. ℹ️
8. Export control in research: certain research areas (e.g. some engineering, physics or IT fields) are subject to export-control rules, which can affect access to labs or projects for nationals of some countries. Your institute is responsible for checking this (BAFA – Export control). ⚠️
9. Consular services: if your country's consulates in Germany have closed or have limited services (passport renewal, document legalisation), contact your embassy in Berlin early — passport renewals can take a long time. Your residence permit depends on a valid passport. → 64. Religion, food and home communities
10. Talk to someone: the Welcome Centre and AStA know these situations well and can refer you to specialist advice. → 22. International Office, 24. AStA

4. Documents and costs

Item	Required / possible	Notes	Source
Proof of origin of funds	Possible	Banks may ask	Bundesbank
Verpflichtungserklärung	Possible	Alternative to a blocked account	Federal Foreign Office
Customs declaration for cash ≥ €10,000	Required if applicable	—	German Customs

💬 About this page: 🐞 Report an error or broken link · 💡 Suggest an idea · ✍️ Share an experience · ✏️ Edit it yourself

This page is general information, not legal advice. Your rights depend on your exact status. Before changing anything (e.g. switching to a student permit), get independent legal advice.

Last reviewed: 2026-11-10 · Section: Section 8 — Information by Nationality · Key: ⚠️ = needs confirmation · ℹ️ = note · 🌍 = depends on your nationality

1. Purpose

People who came to Germany seeking protection can study at LUH. This page explains the special advice services, how admission and funding differ, and what to consider about your residence status.

2. Who needs this?

- Asylum seekers (Aufenthaltsgestattung), people with a tolerated stay (Duldung), recognised refugees and people with subsidiary protection.
- People with temporary protection under § 24 AufenthG — mainly people who fled the war in Ukraine.
- Students and researchers at risk in their home country.

3. Steps

1. Advice at LUH: the International Office has a dedicated contact for prospective students with a refugee background (LUH – Information for refugees). Hannover's universities and Studentenwerk also set up support for students affected by the war in Ukraine (hannover.de – Support for Ukrainian students and researchers).
2. Admission: you generally apply like other international applicants, usually via uni-assist. If you cannot fully document your previous education because of flight, there are special procedures (plausibility check, assessment tests) (Study in Germany (DAAD) – Information for refugees). ⚠️ Ask the LUH contact before applying.
3. Language and preparation: German courses and preparatory programmes are offered at the LLC and the Studienkolleg; the DAAD funds university preparation programmes for refugees (e.g. "Integra")

(Niedersächsisches Studienkolleg; Study in Germany (DAAD) – Information for refugees). → 35. Learning German

4. Funding: recognised refugees and people with certain protection statuses can receive BAföG; others may receive benefits under other laws (§ 8 BAföG – eligible foreign nationals). ⚠️ Studying can affect social benefits — get advice from Studentenwerk's social counselling first. → 43. Scholarships
5. Temporary protection (Ukraine): residence permits under § 24 AufenthG have been extended automatically until 4 March 2027 following the EU's decision (asyl.net – Extension of Ukraine residence permits). With this permit you may study and work. Switching to a student permit is possible in some cases but has consequences (e.g. for benefits and work limits) ⚠️ (Germany4Ukraine – Help portal).
6. Work: recognised refugees and people with § 24 protection generally may work without the 140-day limit; asylum seekers and people with a Duldung need permission from the Ausländerbehörde. ⚠️ → 40. Student jobs
7. Free legal advice: the Refugee Law Clinic Hannover at the Faculty of Law advises refugees and migrants (hannover.de – Refugee Law Clinic at the Faculty of Law (2020 report)); the Lower Saxony Refugee Council also helps (Flüchtlingsrat Niedersachsen).
8. Researchers at risk: the Philipp Schwartz Initiative of the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation funds threatened researchers at German universities (Humboldt Foundation – Philipp Schwartz Initiative).
9. Psychological support: free counselling at ptb; specialised centres for traumatised refugees exist in Lower Saxony (NTFN) (NTFN). → 29. Counselling

4. Documents and costs

Item	Required / possible	Notes	Source
Residence document (Aufenthaltsgestattung, permit or Duldung)	Required	For enrolment	LUH
Proof of previous education	Required	Special procedures if documents are missing	Study in Germany
Language certificate	Required	Depends on programme	LUH
Semester fee	Required	Same as all students; hardship options may apply	LUH – Re-registration

5. Responsible office

- University advice for refugees: Hochschulbüro für Internationales, Welfengarten 1A, 30167 Hannover (LUH)
- Residence questions: Ausländerbehörde → 10. Residence permit
- Social counselling: Studentenwerk Hannover → 23. Studentenwerk

1. Purpose

Feeling at home matters. This page helps you find your embassy or consulate, places of worship, food from home and cultural communities in Hannover — and explains how religion is handled at German universities.

2. Who needs this?

- All international students — whatever their religion, culture or language.

3. Steps

Your embassy or consulate

1. Find your country's embassy (usually in Berlin) and any consulate responsible for Lower Saxony in the Federal Foreign Office's list of foreign missions in Germany (Federal Foreign Office – Missions of other states in Germany). Several countries have honorary consulates in Hannover; for full consular services (passports) you may need to travel to Berlin, Hamburg or Frankfurt.
2. Renew your passport well before it expires — your residence permit can only be extended with a valid passport. → 10. Residence permit
3. 🌍 EU citizens whose country has no embassy nearby can get consular help from any other EU member state's embassy (Your Europe – Consular protection).

Religion

1. Freedom of religion is guaranteed by the Basic Law, including the freedom to have no religion (Basic Law – Article 4).
2. At university: LUH is a secular institution. Exams can be scheduled on religious holidays; if this is a problem, ask your examinations office early. ⚠️ There is no general right to reschedule.
3. Church tax: only deducted if you declared membership of a tax-collecting religious community at registration. → 5. Registering your address

4. University chaplaincies and religious student groups: Protestant and Catholic university communities (ESG, KHG) are open to all and also offer social and financial advice; Muslim, Jewish, Hindu, Buddhist and other student groups are listed among the registered student associations (LUH – Student associations). → 49. Student groups ℹ️ Know of a room of silence or prayer room on campus? Please add it via page 57.
5. Places of worship in Hannover: the city's information on religious communities and intercultural life is a starting point (hannover.de – Living in Hannover). ℹ️ Community members: please add verified addresses on page 57.

Food

1. Canteen labels: vegetarian/vegan dishes and allergens are marked; ask staff about pork, alcohol or halal options. → 28. Mensa
2. International groceries: many shops sell food from around the world. → 31. Shopping

Culture and community

1. Intercultural life in Hannover: many migrant organisations and cultural associations are active in the city; the city's integration and migration pages are a starting point (hannover.de – Living in the Hannover region). ⚠️
2. Country-based student groups at LUH → 49. Student groups
3. Discrimination or racism: you don't have to accept it. → 27. ChancenVielfalt
